THE Chicago Journal says: In the great wheat fields of Southern Illinois, where the choicest winter wheat is raised, reaping machines by hundreds are now at this moment whirring through the golden grain and gathering out of harm's way one of the best wheat crops ever raised in Egypt. We know of one firm in Southern Illinois which sold the past season, in six counties, four hundred and six new reaping machines, and these, together with all the hundreds of old ones in the same district, are now at work. This item may give some idea of the magnitude of the crop in that section.

A BOSTON correspondent relates the following: A gentleman very prominent as a friend of, and laborer in Sunday schools, went on board the schoolship on Sunday, with the Presidential party. In the evening of that day, while addressing a gathering of Sabbath school children in a neighboring city, he described his experiences. Said he: "I saw on board that ship two men who had been Governors of States, high dignitaries in church and government, and loftiest of all, the President of the United States. I also saw 125 boys, all of whom had been sent on board for some offense against the law, and not one of those little fellows would have been willing to exchange places with Andrew Johnson."

ENGLISH railroad iron, during April last, was exported to the amount of 46,974 tons for the United Kingdom, and for the four months ending with April the exports were 133,875 tons. A large proportion of this, notwithstanding the high duties levied on imported iron comes to this country, the exports to the United States during the four months referred to having been 59,661 tons, as compared with but 25,450 tons during the corresponding period of 1866, and 4,902 tons during the corresponding period of 1865—a large and rapid increase. The large exports of railroad iron to this country, the London Times says, were continuing during May and June. Of the balance exported during the four months ending with April, India took 33,000 tons, and was the next largest buyer to the United States.

HIS MAJESTY, of Prussia, is said to be a very good-tempered person. He forbade the army officers to gamble at Baden. One night a young Lieutenant bet a sovereign on the rouge, and won; again and again, until there were sixteen. When about to take them he saw the King standing looking at him and dare not lift the money. The rouge continued to win, and the game required him to take up his winnings. He sat and trembled when his Majesty stepped to him, tapped his shoulder, and said "come take up your money, and make yourself scarce before your superiors meet you." A few days after he met the Lieutenant and said, "I caused you to lose some money the other day in interrupting your game. The rouge won three times after you left. You may draw the difference from my private exchequer, but beware that you do not commence again."
Evidently William intends to be popular.

THE immense vitality of the Paris exhibition is thought to be demonstrated by the fact that the waters of Salt Lake have acknowledged a sensation. The Territory of Utah has sent to the exhibition Brigham Young, Jr., accompanied by Mr. Franklin D. Richards, a general commission agent of emigration. Brigham Young, Jr., has left one of his two wives who accompanied him to Europe in Liverpool. Mr. Franklin D. Richards, who has four wives, two American and two English, and twenty-two children to feed, is exciting the philosophic attention of the French. However, it is a fact that only one Frenchman, M. Bertrand, has joined these Latter-day Saints, and he lived among them for ten years a bachelor. On the other side of the channel the surplus of women is large in the population, and the Mormons seize upon Miss Cobb's question, "What shall we do with our old maids? by saying, "Send them to Utah Territory, where marriage is given to all."

THE accumulation of specie in the leading commercial cities of Europe is exciting the observation of business men, as a phenomenon without precedent in this century. The London Times says that "on no previous occasion has a simultaneous accumulation of bullion of such magnitude been witnessed in England, France and Germany, and it may be inferred that the circumstance will not pass without producing some remarkable phenomena." "The only question," it says, "now in suspense is that of the coming harvest. Thus far the anticipations seem very favorable, and if these should be realized, there must be buoyancy in every branch of national business throughout the remainder of the year. On the other hand, even with a chance of an indifferent harvest, the present condition of our money market would furnish a guarantee against any severe inconvenience. All things, therefore, seem to combine to fortify the views of the holders of such securities as have any solid foundation whatever, and to induce them to rely, that for investments actually possessing any elements of recovery, there never was a time when patience and hope might more reasonably be exercised."

The Birmingham Anti-Popery Riots.

The particulars of the anti-Popery riots in Birmingham, England, show that they were very serious affairs, which were not suppressed without the aid of a strong body of troops. It appears that the Rev. Mr. Murphy, an agent of the "London Protestant Electoral Union," who had been lecturing against Popery in neighboring towns, applied to the Mayor of Birmingham for the use of the Town Hall, for a course of anti-Popery lectures. The Mayor, understanding that disturbances had attended Mr. Murphy's lectures in other places, declined to grant the hall for his use. His friends then went to work and erected a Tabernacle, which would accommodate some 3,000 persons, and he began his lectures there, amidst great excitement, within and around the building, which finally ripened into a riot of such proportions that the police, after being compelled to use their cutlasses, and with difficulty maintaining their ground, had to call for the military to support them. The Tabernacle was assailed by the mob, and the windows all broken in and the furniture partially destroyed. A number of persons were seriously injured, and some five and twenty rioters were arrested. Two whole streets were sacked—probably in retaliation for the attack on the Tabernacle—and a Romish chapel much damaged. The greatest excitement and alarm prevailed all day Monday, the 17th ult. But at the latest accounts the riot was over, and order reigned again in Birmingham.

Strength of the Rebellion.

Among other documents unearthed at Richmond were the muster rolls of the Confederate armies, which have fallen into the hands of a Tribune correspondent. From these it appears that 68,000 Southern troops participated in the battle of Fair Oaks, fought on the 31st of May, 1862. Johnston having been wounded, General Lee succeeded him.

General Lee entered Pennsylvania with one hundred thousand troops, but on returning to Virginia after the battle of Gettysburg he was able to muster but forty-one thousand—a total loss of fifty-nine thousand. Gettysburg was indeed the turning point in the struggle, and that and other disasters encountered during the summer months of 1863 should have convinced the Southern leaders of the utter folly of further resistance.

The Confederate Army undoubtedly reached its highest point, both in numbers and efficiency, in the early Summer of 1863, when the movement into Pennsylvania was commenced. At the close of March, before all preparations had been made, the returns show a naminal force of 484,000, of whom 341,000 were present, and 281,000 were present for duty. Probably about 20,000 were added during the next six weeks to the Army of the East; so that we may safely say that at the middle of June, there were a little more than 500,000 on the muster rolls, of whom 300,000 were present for duty.

In the first week of July they suffered losses amounting to fully 100,000 men. At the end of the month Lee had only 41,000 for duty out of the 100,000 with which he had set out six weeks before; and in a month, by every exertion, he could get together only 15,000 more and out of this 56,000, all told, he was forced to send 15,000 of the best troops to the West.

When in the spring of 1864 Grant opened his campaign, Lee had only a little more than 50,000, and in August, when the siege of Richmond was fairly opened, he had, counting in those present with him, though still nominally belonging to the Department of North Carolina, less than 60,000. From this time the returns show how prevalent became desertions from the Confederate armies at the East and West. In August, out of a nominal force af 550,000, there were not 200,000 present for duty in all the armies. At the close of February, the date of the last report in our possession, Lee, out of a nominal force of 160,000 had present but 73,000, and for duty but 59,000. More than half were absent wholly, and little more than a third were present for duty.

We judge that in all 600,000 different men were in the Confederate ranks during the war. Of these we do not believe one-half are alive this day. Once in the ranks there was no escape except by death, disablement from wounds or sickness, or desertion. Of the 300,000 of the Confederate soldiers yet alive, no man can say what proportion are wholly or in great part disabled by wounds or disease.

Letter Rates in British Mails.

Arrangements have been perfected between the Postoffice Departments of Great Britain and the United States changing the mode of rating letters passing through British mails. Hereafter the postage upon all letters exchanged through the British mails, whether via England, via St. Thomas, or via Panama, will advance by a single rate for each half ounce, or fraction thereof, instead of charging, as heretofore, two rates for every ounce or fraction of an ounce, when the letter or packet exceeded one ounce in weight.

Horace Greeley Before the Judiciary Committee.

Reason Why He Became Jeff. Davis's Bondsman.

HIS TESTIMONY IN FULL.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, July 1, 1867.

The House Judiciary Committee to-day resumed the taking of evidence and examined Hon. Horace Greeley relative to the trial of Jefferson Davis and his connection therewith. The following is a full report of the evidence:

JUDICIARY COMMITTEE, WASHINGTON, D. C., July 1st, 1867.

TESTIMONY OF HORACE GREELEY.

Hon. Horace Greeley sworn and examined:

BY MR. BOUTWELL—Question—Have you at any time had a conversation or communication with the President or with any member of the Cabinet, in reference to the trial or release of Jefferson Dais?

Answer—No, sir; not directly. I once talked with, or rather had a conversation with Mr. Speed about the case but with no other member of the Cabinet.

Question—When did that conversation take place?

Answer—In the spring of 1866. I do not recollect the date. It was the day before you, Mr. Boutwell, offered a resolution about the case of Jefferson Davis in the House of Representatives.

Question—Who else was present at the conversation?

Answer—Mr. George Shea was the only third person present. He was counsel for Jefferson Davis.

Question—What was the nature of the conversation so far as Mr. Speed took any part in it?

Answer—The object of Mr. Shea was to ascertain whether, if an application were made for bail, the Government would resist it.

Question—What view on that subject did Mr. Speed present on that occasion?

Answer—None at all; he was very noncommittal. I could not make out anything from his conversation. He did not know or did not wish to say what the views of the Government were on the subject at all. I came away with no impression about what he would do. He said nothing that indicated whether he would or would not object.

Question—Did you ever have any communication with or information from the President in reference to the matter?

Answer—None in the world.

Question—Or with any other member of the Cabinet?

Answer—No, sir. Mr. Speed is the only member of the Cabinet by whom I remember having heard the name of Jefferson Davis mentioned.

Question—At the time of the release of Davis on bail in May last, did you have any conversation with any member of the Cabinet?

Answer—No, sir. On my way to Richmond and back, I did not stop at Washington.

Question—At the time you went to Richmond had you any previous information as to what the policy of the Government would be in reference to the releasing of Mr. Davis?

Answer—I had none. I had no information until we came into court as to what the Government would do. I did not know whether the Government was going to resist the application for bail or not.

BY MR. ELDRIDGE—Question.—At whose suggestion or solicitation did you become bail for Jefferson Davis?

Answer—Mr. George Shea's. He was a very old and intimate acquaintance and friend of mine.

Question—You had no communication with any Government officer soliciting you to become bail for Jefferson Davis?

Answer—No, sir; nor any intimation that it would be desirable.

Question—You had no communication on the subject with the President or any of his officers?

Answer—No, sir.

Question—Were you, after you came here, or after you went to Richmond, solicited by any officer of the Government to go bail for Jefferson Davis?

Answer—No, sir.

Question—Was Mr. Shea present at the time you signed the bond at Richmond?

Answer—Yes, sir.

Question—Had you any communication with Jefferson Davis about going bail for him?

Answer—No, sir. I never had any communication by letter or word. I did not know him until I saw him in court.

Question—Did any one after it was known that you proposed to go bail for Mr. Davis apply to you not to do so, or write to you about it?

Answer—Well, sir, there was a hubbub at the time I was here, and Senator Wade and Senator Chandler talked with me about it. I think Senator Cresswell, of Maryland, was also present. I do not recollect any other person.

Question—On what grounds did they want you not to go bail for Jeff. Davis?

Answer—There was a conversation of half an hour between us on the subject. I cannot state definitely what particular reasons they urged. They thought it would be bad policy, and that it would have a bad influence.

Question—That it would have a bad effect on the Republican party?

Answer—I believe so; that was the impression I had.

Question—Were there any other persons endeavoring to prevent your going bail for Jefferson Davis?

Answer—I do not recollect. There may have been one or two personal friends doing so, although it was not generally known that I intended to go bail.

Question—Did they put their objection on party grounds alone?

Answer—Generally.

Question—There was no principle involved in it?

Answer—I do not recollect. They made no impression on me, other than that it would be injuries to the party.

Question—Did you tell them that it was not a party question to bail Jefferson Davis, he having been imprisoned so long?

Answer—No, sir; in the first place I was desirous to bring on the trial. The first year I thought we could compel the Government to bring the prisoner to trial by a writ of habeas corpus. Finally I thought the time for a trial to any good purpose had passed.

Question—Did you go bail for Jefferson Davis with a view of never having him tried?

Answer—No. I wished to have him tried if the government should ever wish to try him.

Question—I understand you as saying that you thought the time for trying him to any good purpose had passed away?

Answer—That was my judgment.

Question—Is that your opinion now?

Answer—Yes, so far as I know the facts. If he had anything to do with assassinating President Lincoln or poisoning or starving prisoners, I wish him to be tried. I do not know any facts that justify either charge.

Question—You know of no facts on the subject of his connection with the assassination of President Lincoln?

Answer—No, sir; none that would connect him with it.

[Signed.] HORACE GREELEY.

SURRATT'S TRIAL.

Nineteenth Day's Proceedings.

Examination of Weichman Concluded.

HIGHLY IMPORTANT EVIDENCE.

Testimony of Dr. McMillian, Surgeon of British Steamer Peruvian.

His First Introduction to Surratt Through La Pierre, a Catholic Priest.

Surratt's Confessions on the Voyage.

Carrier of Dispatches Between Montreal and Richmond.

Female Compagnons du Voyage---Their Adventures and Escapes.

He Hoped to Return and Serve Andrew Johnson as Lincoln Had Been Served.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—The trial of Surratt was resumed, Judge Fisher presiding.

C. Dunn testified to employing Surratt in the military freight depot of the Adams Express, December 30th, 1864; January 13th, Surratt asked leave of absence, which was refused, witness expressing surprise at the application made after being such a short time employed; Surratt said he had business in the country; next day Mrs. Surratt came, and witness refused her also; Surratt then left and never came back, even for his pay.

Weichman was again recalled and cross-examined by Mr. Bradley. Considerable of his testimony given on the assassination trial was read to him, certain portions of which he corrected; did not give himself up to Major Richards, but to one of his officers when in Canada; there was such a detective as McDevitt, and was named as special officer in War Department order; did not tell John Ford that I told Stanton I knew where Surratt was at the time of the assassination; on the morning after the assassination met Holohan on the street; went home to breakfast; said I believed Atzerott assassinated the President; said I would disclose all I knew; remember the remark at the table that the death of Abraham Lincoln was nothing more than the death of a negro in the army; Annie Surratt said that; did not testify that before on account of sympathy for the poor girl; tell it now because drawn out of me, and because I have been hunted down and persecuted on account of these people; don't remember telling Mr. Carlin that the testimony at the assassination trial was written out for me, and I compelled to swear to it; did not tell Carlin I could have given an explanation of Mrs. Surratt's visit had I been allowed so to do; didn't tell Carlin I contemplated suicide; did not take a revolver and threaten suicide; did not say I was going to confession to ease my conscience; Mrs. Surratt did not say Booth was not in town April 4th, 1865; I never said she so stated; an official document over General Augur's signature was read, showing Weichman as a Government detective April 16th, 1865; witness denied having ever spoken to Carlin or Brophy about a confession; never said anything to them about it. This ended Weichman's testimony. Mrs. Benson, late Mrs. Hudspeth, was recalled; a photograph was exhibited; witness recognized it as a resemblance to the individual who dropped the letter in a New York street car; it was a picture of Booth; the hand of the person that dropped the letter was remarkably small and delicate; was attracted toward him particularly because I noticed he was disguised.

Doctor Lewis Joseph Archibald McWilliam sworn:—From April to October, 1865, was surgeon of the steamship Peruvian; left Quebec for Liverpool September 16; know prisoner; he crossed the ocean with me that voyage to Londonderry; first saw prisoner on the mail steamer Montreal, running between Montreal and Quebec, on the 15th of September, 1865; about a week or ten days previous a man named La Pierre, a priest, who at the time lived in Montreal, came to me and said somebody was coming, and on the 15th of September I was going to Quebec on the steamer Montreal, and there met this LaPierre again; he said he would introduce me to his friend; he took me to a state-room, of which LaPierre had the key; the state-room was locked and he unlocked it; in the room I found the prisoner at the bar; Mr. La Pierre introduced the prisoner under the name of McCarthy; I never suspected who the person was, and I passed the evening and night with him; the prisoner's hair was then short, of a dark brown color; I did not perceive it was dyed, but afterward found it out; conversation that evening general. La Pierre went to Quebec with us; when we got to Quebec we had breakfast on the steamer at 7 or 8 o'clock, and between 9 and 10 the passengers were transferred to the Peruvian; upon reaching the Peruvian La Pierre said to me in Surratt's presence, he wished me to let Surratt occupy my room till the steamer left; did so, and he occupied my room until the steamer left; the steamer left in half an hour, and La Pierre went ashore; that day, I remember, either after lunch or dinner, the prisoner came to me and pointing to one of the passengers, asked me if I knew who he was; I said I did not know; Surratt said he thought the man was an American detective, and was after him; I told him I thought nothing of the kind; I asked him what he had done that he should be afraid of an American detective; he said he had done a good deal; if I knew all he had done it would make my eyes stare; I said he need not be afraid of an American detective, because he was on a British ship, and in British waters; he said he did not care if he was, for if he attempted to arrest him, this would settle him, and he exhibited a pistol; on the tug going from the steamer Montreal to the Peruvian I was introduced to him.

Mr. Bradley objected, unless it was shown what connection this had with Surratt.

Mr. Pierpont said he proposed to show it was Beverly Tucker, General Ripley, and others who were in Montreal, and who were with Surratt in his flight.

Mr. Bradley asked if it was proposed to connect the men named with the conspiracy.

Mr. Pierpont said it was proper to show who were on the tug, and were engaged in conversation with Surratt.

Judge Fisher said it could be shown what men spoke with Surratt.

Witness resumed: Said he saw one speak to Surratt on the tug, on the voyage to Liverpool saw General Ripley talk with Surratt; of my own knowledge, I didn't know who General Ripley was, but prisoner said he was General Ripley, of South Carolina; there was among the passengers Cornell Jewett, the one they called Colorado Jewett; there was also a colored man who said he had been in Jeff. Davis' employ; knew Beverly Tucker; was introduced to him that morning on the tug going from the steamer Montreal to the Peruvian; he went on board the Peruvian; the prisoner was called McCarty; we sailed about 10 o'clock A. M.; after we got on board the steamer I perceived that Surratt's hair and moustache were dyed; he wore a pair of spectacles; said he did not wear spectacles because he was short-sighted, but because it aided in disguising him; I had a conversation with the prisoner every day until we arrived at Londonderry; our conversation took place generally on the quarter-deck, sometimes behind the wheel-house; remember Surratt telling me he had been in the habit of going to Richmond with dispatches during the war, and bringing dispatches back to Washington and Montreal; he stated he one time was told in Montreal he would meet a lady in New York; that he met a woman in New York and came to Washington, and started for Richmond with four or five others; that after much trouble he crossed the Potomac and getting south of Fredericksburg, were driven on a platform car, and as they were drawn along they saw some men approaching and found out they were escaped soldiers, and were almost starved to death, and the woman said "Let us shoot the damned Yankee soldiers;" and they shot them, and then went on; he told me the name of the woman, but I cannot recollect; I cannot remember the woman, and would not like to say it; it sounded like Slater; the woman was conspicuous in Montreal during the trial of the St. Albans' raiders carrying messages; the soldiers referred to were uniformed.

Mr. Bradley said he could not see where this evidence was tending.

Judge Fisher said he could not see to what it tended now.

Mr. Pierpont said they would connect it with the conspiracy.

Witness resumed, and said Surratt said he had received money from Benjamin, the Confederate Secretary of State; the amounts he named were $7,000 and $50,000; he said he was in Richmond a few days previous to its fall; he said one day that several of them went, crossing the Potomac in a boat, when they were pursued by a gunboat, and were ordered to surrender or they would be fired upon; a small boat was sent to them, and they fired into the small boat as soon as it came alongside; witness was asked to repeat this by the defence, and retorted by telling Mr. Merrick he (Mr. Merrick) could understand it if he would keep his ears open. He (McMillan) was not to be insulted as all witnesses had already been insulted, and he thought the insult to witnesses was the act of a coward and sneak.

Mr. Merrick asked if that was proper language for witness to use.

The court said that it was not, but counsel must not worry and annoy witnesses.

Witness said Mr. Merrick had said the other day that all the witnesses ought to be in the penitentiary, and he wanted it understood he was as good as Mr. Merrick.

Witness resumed, and said Surratt stated he had frequently travelled to Richmond under the assumed names of Harrison and Sherman; upon reaching the coast of Ireland, Surratt called me behind the wheelhouse and remarked he saw a foreign land at last, and putting his hand upon the pistol in his pocket, he said he hoped to live to see the day when he could return and serve Andrew Johnson as Abraham Lincoln had been served; he said also that if an English officer attempted to arrest him, he would shoot him; I told him if he did he would meet with very little mercy in England; he replied that he knew that, but he would do it nevertheless, for he would sooner be hung by an English jury than a Yankee one, and if he went to the United States again, he knew he would swing.

Mr. Bradley asked that the latter statement be repeated by the reporter.

The witness was about to reply, when it was stated that he was not asked. Witness said he could tell all that was necessary, and continuing his remarks, said Mr. Merrick was not at all dangerous; he was not afraid of him.

At 2:20 the Court took a recess until to-morrow.

DOMINION OF CANADA.

Inauguration of Lord Monck---General Holiday---Provisional Governors.

OTTAWA, C. W., July 1.—Lord Monck was sworn in this morning and called on John A. McDonald to assume his former privileges in council. Shortly after Lord Monck reviewed the troops. The observance of the day as a holiday was universal. It is understood Sir N. F. Bellaew will be appointed Governor of Quebec. Generals Williams and Doyle will continue Governors of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick provisionally, and General Stisted is spoken of for the same in Ontario temporarily.

TORONTO, C. W., July 1.—To-day was observed as a general holiday. The city was gaily decorated with flags. The review of troops, regulars and volunteers, was witnessed by an immense concourse. To-night there was a monster concert at Horticultural Gardens. The principal buildings were illuminated, and there was a grand display of fire-works.

HALIFAX, July 1.—The inauguration of the confederation was celebrated by a grand procession, dinner and public meeting.

FROM PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

Death of Rear Admiral Pearson---Accident to a Sailing Party.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., July 1.—Rear Admiral George F. Pearson died this morning, aged 68 years.

A boat containing a sailing party on Pistaloqua river upset yesterday afternoon, drowning Michal Consa, a resident of Newmarket, and a lady, name not given. Six others were rescued.

Fire in Toledo, Ohio.

TOLEDO, Ohio, July 1.—A fire broke out this afternoon in the curtain factory of Hall & Evans, No. 212 Summit street, which, together with the confectionery establishment of S. S. Fox, and the hardware store of C. Ballard, was totally destroyed. B. Mellink & Co., wholesale furniture, building and stock badly damaged by fire and water. The flames spread to the block on the opposite side of the street, occupied by Rigley & Co., furniture; Schaeffer & Co., grocers; S. Van Baalen, clothing; J. Johnson, auction and commission. The buildings and contents were considerably damaged. The total loss will probably reach $28,000, insured for $20,000.

From Richmond.

RICHMOND, July 1.—The first lot of new wheat was received to-day.

A large meeting was held to-night, addressed by many prominent citizens, who urged all to register, and assured them their rights were not affected by the Alexandria Constitution.

The remains of Gen. A. P. Hill were brought to this city to-day, and interred in Holywood Cemetery.

Counterfeiters Arrested.

BOSTON, July 1.—Two Italians, giving the names of Rosa Maria and Salvador Gragio, were arrested this morning, charged with making and circulating spurious coin of the denomination of five cent pieces. They resisted arrest, and one fired several shots from a revolver at the officers, but fortunately hit no one.

AQUATIC SPORTS.

Walter Brown's Challenge to Hamill---He Wants a Three Mile Race in Portland Harbor.

WALTER BROWN, the oarsman, has published the following challenge in the Spirit of the Times. His letter would bear criticism in almost every sentence. His winning the championship in this city is admitted by no one but himself—even his best friends and entertainers here deny his claim. It is somewhat singular that Brown proposes only a three mile race instead of five miles, the usual distance for the championship, and the inference is that he is not over-confident of his abilities to row a five-mile race. Brown's challenge is as follows:

Previous to my race with James Hamill, ex-champion, I signified my intention of retiring from the aquatic arena. This announcement, which I made in good faith, has been totally ignored by Mr. Hamill and his friends, who have bantered and badgered me for a race over the Boston, New York, or Philadelphia course. Probably I would get a fair showing over either of these courses, but I wish to state that I went to Pittsburgh at considerable expense of time, money, and trouble to win from James Hamill the championship of America. That object I accomplished against every possible concession and advantage that the Pittsburgher could gain from me. I accepted his articles as they read, gave him choice of course, distance, amount of money, day of month, and time of day. He won the choice of position before the start and his judge gave the starting signal. The referee, with whose decision the Hamillites find such fault was then and is now a stranger to me. Under these circumstances, which are public and require no proof, I feel that I have fairly won my title of Champion Oarsman of America, despite the petty slurs of disappointed men who lost insignificant sums of money by my defeat of their favorite. Still, as I believe there is a desire on the part of the patrons of aquatics to see this matter set finally at rest, and as I recognize the rights of the public to command the services of the men they support, I hereby offer to row James Hamill or John McKiel (giving Mr. Hamill the preference) a three-mile race in Portland harbor, for twenty-five hundred dollars a side, play or pay, the race to come off in September. If this should not suit the views of Mr. Hamill or Mr. McKiel, they must look elsewhere for a customer. I had to invade Pittsburgh, almost alone, to win the championship, and those gentlemen must come to Portland if they would win it back.

Failing in these matches, I will row Harry Kelley, the English champion, the same race for a similar amount, and make a due allowance for expenses. I will also guarantee Mr. Kelley as handsome treatment as the ex-champion, James Hamill, received in England, and a much closer contest for his victory should he win one.

I would respectfully request that this challenge be answered by Messrs. Hamill or McKiel personally. With me, the oar is mightier than the pen, and I shall positively decline any further unnecessary argument.

Mr. Brown probably forgot to mention that his expenses to and in Pittsburgh were paid by Mr. Hamill, and his offer above to Hamill is not fair so far as the question of expenses are concerned. If Walter Brown thinks himself champion oarsman of the United States, he is bound to accept the challenges of all comers. Hamill has issued him a fair and manly challenge, to row the usual distance over any one of the three Eastern courses. This challenge Brown has paid no attention to, thus virtually acknowledging that he is not champion but simply Walter Brown, oarsman. Hamill's views on the above challenge are not known, but it is safe to say that he will contend for a five mile race, even if he should have to accept the three mile tender to secure it. He will also insist on having his expenses paid, as he paid Brown three hundred dollars for coming here, and therefore the latter was not at "considerable expense." Brown's card is doubtless genuine, but there is enough in it to indicate that he is not anxious to meet Hamill in a fair race on a fair course.

FOREIGN ITEMS.

The Journal, of St. Petersbueg, publishes an article on the address of the Polish exiles in Paris to the Emperor Napoleon. The Journal says: The Polish exiles have protested against the attempt made on the life of the Czar as an act contrary to their political convictions, but they thought it their duty not to send this address to the Emperor of Russia, as such a course of action was rendered impossible by the part they had in the Polish insurrection.

The Invalide Russe publishes an article on the same subject, pointing out that the hatred of the Poles residing in Paris against the Czar is ingrained. "This gives us reason," it says, "to fear that in their heart they regret the failure of the attempt to murder the Emperor, although in their address they stigmatize it as odious."

The season thus far has been favorable, and bounteous harvests are everywhere foreshadowed. The Mark Lane Express thinks the cereals of England will be unusually prolific. A large area has been sown and planted in France and Germany, and there is now the largest stock of flour on hand in Paris ever known. The wheat growing regions of the Baltic will, it is believed, be able to export two million quarters this year.

The London Herald mentions the case of an author who issued a story in England with a fascinating title page, carried it to this country and reproduced it with an altered name; allowed it to be reprinted at Leipsic under another title; sold it again in England, and afterward, in order to escape the consequences of an action at law, had the effrontery to deny its authorship altogether.

The Order Denying Gen. Sickles's Request.

Gen. Sheridan Extends Time for Registration.

Maximilian's Proposal to Abdicate.

A Minority Impeachment Report.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, July 1, 1867.

General Sickles.

The following is the official reply to General Sickles's request to be relieved:

WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, D. C., June 21, 1867.

MAJOR GENERAL SICKLES, Charleston:—Your telegram, asking to be relieved from command of the Second Military District, and demanding a court of inquiry, was submitted by the Secretary of War to the President of the United States, who directs you to retain your command, and he declines to order the court of inquiry demanded by you.

By order of the President of the United States.

[Signed] E. D. TOWNSEND.

Seat Contested.

Notice of contest of the seat of George W. Adams, member elect of the Eighth Kentucky District, has been received here. M. L. Rice, Radical, is the contestant.

Maximilian.

It is learned that the requests of Napoleon and Queen Victoria to this Government to give its friendly aid to save Maximilian's life did not reach Mexico in time to be of any use. It has officially transpired to-day that Count Berthamy, the French Minister, informed Secretary Seward that Maximilian had proposed to formally abdicate Mexico, provided that the Constitutional Assembly should be convened, and a new choice for President be made. The approval of this proposition was solicited, which Secretary Seward declined, on the ground that it would be interfering in Mexican affairs.

An Impeachment Report.

There is the proper authority for the establishment that a report in favor of the impeachment of the President is being prepared by four members of the Judiciary Committee, Messrs. Boutwell, Lawrence, Williams; and Thomas. Mr. Wilson, the Chairman, will report probably a resolution censuring the President, while the two Democratic members have not indicated their action. It looks as though in view of this there would not be a majority report or any conclusion. The impeachment report will make about fifteen columns.

Presidential Appointments.

Ex-Judge Matthews, of Ohio, was examined to-day by the Judiciary Committee relative to certain appointments made by the President in that State.

Distribution of Prizes at the Exposition.

Speech of Emperor Napoleon.

PROGRESS OF THE ALABAMA CASE.

Distribution of Prizes at the Exposition.

PARIS, July 1, Evening.—The distribution of prizes took place at the international Exposition to-day, in the presence of a multitude who filled all the aisles and circles of the great building, and overflowed into the gardens of the Champ de Mars. Emperor Napoleon, Empress Eugenie, with the Prince Imperial and Prince Napoleon, with their suites, proceeded to the Exposition in eight carriages, each drawn by six horses. They were accompanied by Abdul Aziz, Sultan of Turkey, and suite, in six splendid carriages, each drawn by six horses richly caparisoned.

When the initiatory ceremonies were concluded, the Emperor rose from the throne and said: "Peoples and Kings have come here to crown the idea of peace and conciliation. France is proud to be great, prosperous and free; yet that she is not unnerved by her material joys, the thoughtful can see. The national fibres vibrate for the honor of France, but this noble susceptibility should not create fear for the world's repose, as we here prove our anxiety for peace." The Emperor closed his speech by saying: "This Exposition marks an era of harmony and progress, and the triumph of grand moral principles, which, with justice, can alone establish thrones and ennoble humanity."

Great enthusiasm followed the Emperor's speech. Cries of "Vive Napoleon, Vive L'Empereur," continued some minutes. When the excitement had subsided, the Imperial Commission proceeded to announce the distribution of prizes. At the conclusion of this ceremony the Emperor and his distinguished visitor, the Sultan, accompanied by their suites, returned to the Tuilleries.

FROM GREECE.

Reported Victories of Omar Pasha Not Confirmed---The Greek Budget.

WASHINGTON, July 1.—Latest official accounts received from Crete are dated the 4th of June. They contain no confirmation of the reported victories of Omar Pasha—those which were said to have taken place June 3d. According to advices from Heraction, Omar Pasha attacking the Greeks with the whole army on June 1st, but from the fact that the Turks maintained an obstinate silence in regard to the issue of the battle, it is inferred they were badly beaten.

The Greek budget for the current year is published. The receipts amount to thirty-two million drachms, and promise to reach forty millions. The highest receipts before the annexation of the Ionian islands to Greece never exceeded twenty-four millions. The expenditure for 1867 is estimated at twenty millions.

The Daily Commercial

TUESDAY, JULY 2, 1867.

THE COMMERCIAL is the largest daily paper in the State, and gives daily one-fourth more reading than any other paper in Pittsburgh. It is the only Pittsburgh paper that uses the telegraph liberally, gives full market reports, and all the news of the day.

THAT there will be a quorum in both Houses present in Washington to-morrow there can be no doubt, though as to the presence of a Republican two-thirds, even at any time, it is not so clear. It seems to be conceded that the session will be a brief one, and the proceedings confined to the points made apparent by the action of the President connected with reconstruction.

THE London Times thinks the bailing of DAVIS by Mr. GREELEY was a praiseworthy act. The American people have not so short memories that they do not recollect what were the opinions—and hopes, too—of the Times while our Government was in the struggle for life; and what it thinks concerning our affairs now will be held here in about the same esteem as those it expressed then.

THE report of the Freedmen's Aid Commission of Western Pennsylvania, detailing its operations during the past year, also in part from the commencement of the commission, will be found on our third page this morning. It is a very interesting report, and exhibits the gratifying fact that the efforts of the commission have been successful beyond anticipation. It is important that the Commission should continue in its work for another year, and we hope their efforts will be seconded by the liberal contributions of the community.

THE Virginia papers, as collated by the Richmond Enquirer, show that the Registration now going on embraces in many localities more blacks than whites, while they also show that in the several localities the number of whites who might register is greater than that of the blacks. This indicates, as is charged by the papers, a culpable indifference to the consequences, on the part of the whites. If that be so, and it seems a fair inference, then the negroes by showing more interest in the political condition and prospects of the State, prove themselves to be the better citizens, and deserving of the position which their public spirit will give them. The papers are begging and beseeching the whites to register, but it seems to be, to a great extent, unavailing.

SHOULD Governor PERRY's idea be carried out into practice, and the policy of mulish obstinacy and passivity which he favors be adopted by any of the Southern States, the worst that could happen, as a consequence, would be the permanent occupation of such State or States by a military police, for the purpose of affording protection to citizens and of enforcing law and order. But should such a measure be rendered necessary by the refusal of the people to reorganize under the laws of Congress, there can be no reason in law or justice against their being required to pay the extra expense rendered necessary by their passive sedition. In fact, when the Southern States shall have a little longer delayed reconstruction by their endeavors to frustrate or prevent it, the question will naturally and justly arise whether they should not pay the expense of the military occupation which their obstinate course necessitates.

THE shooting of MAXIMILIAN is probably known by this time throughout Europe. The event will create great excitement. What those powers which interposed to save him will feel called upon to do, in view of the barbarous manner in which their wishes were repelled, is an interesting question. However firmly JUAREZ may establish the republic, it will be some time, even under the most favorable circumstances, before he will obtain for it the recognition of those European nations he has so deeply offended. In no respect will the shooting work well for the Liberalists. Done as it doubtless was to satisfy the popular clamor, we may safely conclude that the time is not remote when JUAREZ will be compelled to meet it, reinforced by this concession, raised against himself. The apparently stern act is but proof of the actual weakness of the nominal head of the nation. The ruler that is so ruled by the popular passion that he cannot stay a deed that shocks the civilized world, cannot be said to stand on ground that affords the best of reasons for entertaining great expectations of a lengthened official existence.

THE INDICTMENTS

It has now been several days since the Grand Jury found indictments against several persons for selling bad and unhealthy meat in the market. The community has been deeply moved by the developments made in the progress of the investigations. Fears and suspicions have prevailed, and must, of course, continue to prevail, until there shall be at least some evidence that the market is reformed; that the abominable deception is stopped, and that people may buy their meat with a reasonable confidence that they are not getting such parts of disgusting and dangerous dead animals as have been sold in the market.

We presume, therefore, that the public officers whose business it is to do it, will see that the cases shall be brought on for trial. And while the public feeling of the gross wrong that has been done, is fresh and strong, any long delay will be regarded with impatience. It is due to the feelings of an outraged community, and to the interests of the respectable butchers, as well as to law and justice, that at least some of the cases should be speedily brought to trial. The court is in session and no reason appears why the public anxiety should not be relieved by an immediate and thorough investigation. It is scarcely necessary to assure our readers that the prosecuting attorney will, beyond doubt, give the matter his earliest official attention.

THE COLONIZATION OF CAPITAL.

In the condition of the Southern States, as left by the rebellion and the war, the need most sensibly felt is that of capital to recommence and carry on business. The resources of the people have been exhausted, both in the streams and the fountains. With the possession of land and with abundance of labor around them, and with the certainty of that labor, could it be employed, being profitable, they have still poverty staring them in the face for want of capital to make the labor available for the increase of individual wealth and public prosperity. Recuperation is impossible, in such a degree of exhaustion, unless capital be derived from abroad.

While this needy condition exists in the South, the North has capital to spare. And were the political and social condition of the South different from what it is, this surplus capital would seek investment and employment in the South, to the benefit of all parties—improving lands, giving subsistence to laborers, and returning a satisfactory per centage to its owners. But these will not colonize their capital, any more than they would emigrate themselves, where the condition of society is so unsettled, and where turbulent dispositions and rough manners and uncertain laws render society disagreeable or unsafe. Until amicable feelings become more prevalent, giving ground for confidence, we do not expect great improvement in the financial or industrial interests of the Southern States, for while a dogged enmity is maintained and exhibited, as heretofore, through a representative press and in social organizations, it is vain to expect the influx of capital from the Northern States. Individual cases there may be of persons going with money at their command to make fortunes out of the very misfortunes of the Southern people, but these will only render the case the worse, without improving the temper or the business condition of the community at large.

Money is wanted in the hands of enterprising men, and in amount to promise competition in the various branches of trade and business. And with the known capabilities of the Southern States—never as well known as since the war and the emancipation—a settled, free and friendly condition of society, under law, would insure a prompt and ample supply. It seems to us marvelous that they who see and feel the need so sensibly as the Southern people do, should so persistently prolong it by their unwise course.

THE attentive reader of the SURRATT trial, although it is not yet concluded, must have been struck with the strength of the chain of testimony connecting the Canadian conspirators—SAUNDERS, THOMPSON, CLAY—and JEFF. DAVIS in Richmond, with plots of arson, robbery, and murder, devised while those Commissioners were enjoying an asylum across the border, and put in execution in different parts of the North. SURRATT was one of the agents who traveled constantly between Canada and Richmond. It is established that SURRATT was in the assassination plot, that he visited DAVIS in Richmond and the above named rebels in Canada—that the St. Albans raid and the incendiary attempts in New York were organized and directed by them,—and the inference is inevitable that the assassination of Mr. LINCOLN proceeded from the same source, and that DAVIS was not ignorant of the plot. There is a reason why DAVIS just now prefers the atmosphere of Canada to that of the United States—at least till the SURRATT trial is over—and it is yet to be seen whether the trial does not furnish conclusive reasons for not returning to the United States at all.

MR. SEWARD's speeches are, just now, attracting considerable attention, but there is one we have never yet seen in print. In the first Lincoln campaign, Carl Schurz did yeoman's service, and there was a general disposition to send him on a foreign mission. Mr. Lincoln was especially anxious thus to reward his labor, and testify to foreign monarchies our appreciation of republicanism, but the appointment was not made. Senator Doolittle and Judge Potter called on President Lincoln to urge the claims of Schurz. Mr. Lincoln acknowleged them, and said it had been his intention to send the great German Republican to represent us in a European Court, but Mr. Seward would not consent. If they could talk Mr. Seward over the appointment should be made at once. So they called upon Mr. Seward and stated their business. He objected, on the ground that it would be discourteous to any European Government to send a political exile in that capacity. Judge Potter argued that our foreign ministers should represent this Government, not that to which they were sent. We did not expect monarchies to send Republicans as representatives to our Government, &c., &c., but Mr. Seward was immovable. A European Republican must not be sent to a European Court, lest the prejudices of royalty should be wounded. After exhausting their arguments in vain the two gentlemen rose to leave and Judge Potter said: "I am sorry for your decision, Mr. Secretary. Mr. Schurz will be very much disappointed." "Disappointed!" said Seward, clinching his hands, at his sides, and speaking in a most excited manner; "disappointed! You talk to me of any man being disappointed! to me, who am nothing but the President's clerk."

The impression left by his words, and manner, was, that it was not good will to the Republican party which made Mr. Seward accept, and retain, a place in Mr. Lincoln's Cabinet.

DURING this intensely hot weather, the working horses have, at least, a hard time. By day, between the burning sun above and the heated pavement below, while every muscle is on the strain, they cannot but suffer greatly. And it is scarcely a relief to them to go at night into small, close stables, where the little air they get to breathe is stifling with the ammonia with which it is loaded, and the little space is preoccupied by myriads of flies ready to pounce upon them. Rest and sleep are impossible under such circumstances. Pittsburgh draymen and teamsters are justly proud of their horses, and generally treat them well. Ignorance, ill temper or drunkenness can be assigned for the only exceptions. We utter this word—a word to the wise is sufficient—in behalf of considerate care for the noble animals this hot weather. Give them all the shade possible by day, and all the fresh air possible by night. Overworking or fast driving, at this temperature, is inhuman.

THE Republican party are certainly under large obligations to the humble individual, who, notwithstanding the concentration in his person of all the cardinal virtues, and some which are not cardinal, still continues to serve it with a persevering effort which is perfectly wonderful. Not content with going all the way to Chicago, and swinging around a circle at every station, to ensure the Republican triumph of last fall, and the inestimable lesson he has given them on the policy of electing none to office whose political record is that of an enemy, he appears set upon supplying the party with an alternative in their choice of a Presidential candidate, by keeping Sheridan before the people, in an attitude which increases and confirms their admiration for the little hero. The statesmanship and pluck which he is developing in the hero of the Shenandoah must, very much, endear him to the loyal masses, and the humble individual is rendering good service in testing our public men, and proving who can stand the fire.

A PROPOSITION has been introduced in the Constitutional Convention of New York, to make the ability to read and write a qualification for the right of suffrage. This looks in the right direction, if intelligence has anything to do with republican government. The Times insinuates, rather sharply we think, that the small measure of intelligence, indicated by the ability to read and write, would be an improvement to almost the majority of the voters of New York City. The city is shockingly managed by its elected officers, showing a corrupt condition in the suffrage, but we hope it is not quite so far gone as the Times intimates.

COL. HAY, formerly Private Secretary to Mr. Lincoln, has left for England en route for Vienna, which place he has been appointed Charge d'Affaires for the United States. Col. H. is one of the youngest men that ever filled so responsible a position. He is perfect master of all the European tongues; and with his courtly and handsome exterior will fitly represent the culture and refinement of our country in its social phase, while also rigidly and proudly upholding the political ideas of our system, in all his public and official relations.

THE New York Tribune says:

We have another batch of rumors about Mr. Stanton. Some say that he will resign, others that he will be removed. We discredit them. Mr. Stanton belongs to the class that rarely die, and never resign. As to his political sympathies, they may be expressed by saying that there are three parties in the country now—the Democrats, the Republicans, and Mr. Stanton.

Of the three, we rather think the last is the largest.

THE favorable crop prospect is beginning to exert a good influence on prices, and is causing a demand for certain manufactured articles in the chief cities. The demand for grain bags is equal to the supply, and the grain men are buying up everything to be found in the large cities, and engaging the future production to a large extent. Besides this the prospect that the cost of living will be lower and less rigid economy necessary, together with the fact that the stock of dry goods in the country is now small, has caused more animation among cotton and woolen manufacturers, and preparations are making to increase the production of most kinds of goods at an early day; more especially is this the case with regard to woolens of particular grades. Taken altogether then, the signs are very encouraging, giving good promise of increased activity, so dependent is every department of trade upon the one question of cheap food.

MILES O'REILLY says Mr. Greeley will return from the State Constitutional Convention a wiser if not a sadder man by reason of his summer experience. He came to Albany honestly pervaded with the idea that the work could be done in thirty or sixty days and that with much ease. He urged the necessity of action upon the Convention; the Convention contented itself with smiling an assent. He introduced a resolution upon the first day of the session calling for information from the canal authorities. Poor, deluded man! Upon the twenty-second day of the session the Convention was still holding a discussion as to which one of the canal officials was the proper person to furnish the information desired.

IT will be remembered that General Howard, some time since, suggested a plan of temperance organizations for the freedmen. In accordance with his suggestion the negroes of the District of Columbia and Alexandria have formed several societies known as the "Lincoln National Temperance Associations." John M. Langston, John T. Johnson, and several other gentlemen interested in the welfare of the blacks, have been appointed an executive committee to establish these clubs through the South, and a grand colored division of the temperance order is to be created. The agents of the Freedmen's Bureau are also active in extending among the negro children an organization called the "Vanguard of Temperance."

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

There is a class of papers which seem to think that if they had the management of affairs the necessity for reforms would speedily cease, for there would be no abuse, and it is but right to say that no doubt to a certain extent this would be realized. This we say incidental to the fact that the Round Table, whether through impatience at the delay incident to the proceedings of the Constitutional Convention, or from the irresistible pressure of a sense of superior fitness for the task, publishes a complete remodeled Constitution for the State of New York, drawn up in accordance with the opinions on reform heretofore ably advocated in that journal.

The Bishop of Connecticut says "the spiritual destitution in many parts of New England is absolutely appalling. Thousands on thousands never enter any place of worship, and are utterly ignorant of the first principles of our holy religion. The evil is worse than original heathenism, for it is the evil of lost Christianity."

The Prussians are very busy at Luxemburg packing up all the guns and military stores in the fortress. The Luxemburgers lament bitterly the loss of the garrison, which is not very unnatural, as it has been calculated that the Prussians spent one hundred and ninety thousand pounds a year among the townspeople. As some little compensation, the King Grand Duke has offered to make the town a present of the buildings previously employed for military purposes, as also of the ground gained by the destruction of the fortifications.

The last mails from California announced the arrival from Yokohama of two troupes of Japanese jugglers, respectively seventeen and twenty-five strong, in San Francisco, en route for New York, and also the departure of another company of these top-spinners for New York. They will be presently as plentiful as blackberries.

An International Commission at Paris is endeavoring to fix upon a common unit of money for the whole civilized world. They have probably, by this time, agreed to recommend the gold five franc piece as the standard. The advantages of a uniform currency among all nations are too evident to need enumeration.

It is estimated that two hundred thousand dollars changed hands on the trotting match in which Ethan Allen made the unparalled time of 2:15, 2:16 and 2:19.

Gay-Lussac has proved that milk kept from the air is preserved for a long time, perfectly good. M. Mabrun having put the theory to a practical test and laid the process before the Academy of Sciences for their examination, the committee report that milk thus preserved after six months still possesses all the properties of fresh milk. A prize of fifteen hundred francs has been awarded to M. Mabrun.

It seems that the think-as-I-do people are not all Americans. The Pall Mall Gazette mentions a placard planted on several boards in Kew Gardens, which runs thus: "As these gardens are intended for instruction and recreation, smoking, idle sports and play are forbidden." This is like posting on the gate of a public park, "This park being designed for public enjoyment, all persons are strictly forbidden to enter it." As the placard is anonymous, it is perhaps the work of some satirical body.

PERSONAL.

—Professor Orton, of New York, left Saturday for Aspinwall, in charge of the expedition organized by the Faculty of Williams College for the collection of specimens of natural history in South America. Professor Orton carries with him letters of introduction and recommendation from Secretary Seward, and from eminent scientific gentlemen in the United States.

—The night the King and Queen of the Belgians were present at the grand opera, Paris, they sent for Mme. Marie Sasse and M. Wanot (who sang that evening in L'Africaine, and who are Belgians) and complimented them, and the Queen, taking the bracelet she wore on her arm, gave it to Mme. Sasse.

—Mr. George H. Stuart, of Philadelphia, has been called to account for using other versions of the Psalms than Rouse's.

—The crown of St. Stephen, which Francis Joseph has just assumed, is made of iron and weighs full ten pounds, and this ponderous bauble the King was obliged to wear through the greater part of the ceremony of his coronation. If the royal head did not ache on the first night of its kingly experience as the duly crowned sovereign of Hungary, it will rest lightly under the little addition to his cares and the great addition to his honors which the Emperor of Austria has undertaken under his new title.

—Mr Charles Dexter Cleveland, with a modesty that is little less than exquisite, thus prefaces some Anti-Slavery Addresses which he had the extreme happiness to deliver: "As the future historian will desire as many land-marks as possible of the great life-and-death struggle, the following addresses are now republished in a form more permanent than when they first appeared." Without any doubt "the future historian" will be greatly obliged to Mr. Cleveland.

—It seems as though there was no getting at the truth about the French Prince Imperial. A Paris letter by the latest steamer says: "Meanwhile, amid all the gaieties and festivities which render Paris a kind of gigantic dancing booth, the terrible visitor who levels all distinctions sits crouching, pale and watchful, at the Imperial hearth. The state of the little Prince gives no hope of speedy recovery, nor does any indication at present appear of his being restored to ordinary life. If any possibility had existed of his sharing in the public rejoicings—of appearing on his coal black pony, for instance, at the review, or of being led in, 'attired in a suit of black velvet with scarlet stockings,' to stand by the Emperor's side and give his hand to the friendly chiefs who flock thither to smoke the calumet of peace, such would have been the programme. The visits paid by the sovereigns were never returned according to the etiquette established with such rigor at our Court."

—General Henningsen, who distinguished himself as commander of General William Walker's forces in Nicaragua, is now in New Orleans. He is supposed, by the Crescent, to have something to do with Santa Anna's schemes in Mexico.

—It is feared that Lucy Escott and the rest of the Lyster Opera Company, including Mr. Squires, formerly of Troy, N. Y., have perished on the voyage from Australia to San Francisco.

—The plainest defense rejoinder to the complaint that ritualism is observed, is by the Rev. James Hunt, of Northmore Green, England. He writes about his parishioners thus: "The services here at eleven and two o'clock have been as plain and unritualistic as possible for the last six months. Mass is sung on Sundays at 8 A. M., an hour at which all the Protestant parishioners are in bed drunk, sleeping off the effects of their Saturday's carouse."

—A Boston paper observes: "Of military interference ex-Governor Wells has had his Phil."

—Postmaster-General Randall is given to punning. He told the Yale students, the other day, that the University must look to itself, for an opinion is about that whereas other colleges turn out and expel their worst members, Yale is understood to have turned out the best of men.

—The Duke of Hamilton has sold his residence in Arlington street, London, to a Mr. Naylor; and the Marquis of Hastings has disposed of a castle in Ayrshire to the Marquis of Bute. Both the sellers lost heavily on the Derby races, which, it is intimated, accounts for their present extensive transactions in real estate. It is not stated whether the purchasers were winners.

—A great compliment has just been paid to Sir Edwin Landseer by a lunatic. A physician in London has had to apply to a magistrate for an order to consign a man named John Adams to an asylum. Adams being for a long time under the delusion that the lions in Trafalgar square had got loose and were under his bed, growling at him.

—At a Rebublican meeting in Lebanon, Tennessee, last Saturday, a man named Ivans, who is a Legislative candidate of the confiscation wing of the party, interrupted Mr. Stokes in his speech, called him a liar, and discharged a pistol at him. The ball missed Stokes, but took effect in the groin of a negro, one of Ivans's own friends, inflicting a probably fatal wound.

— The Rev. Mr. Spurgeon, who has been suffering from the gout, is better. On Monday, June 10, he delivered two sermons in the open air at the little hamlet of Peppard, about six miles from Reading. Upwards of three thousand persons assembled from surrounding towns and villages. Mr. Spurgeon alluded to his illness in the course of his remarks. He had the gout in his left leg, and he had preached standing on the other. He had not had the gout in his tongue, and he was not aware that people preached with their legs. He supposed that he should have the gout pretty often, for he was his father's eldest son, and inherited his good qualities. He was thankful to say that the gout had not caused him to relinquish a single ministerial duty.

THE following is an explanation of the resignation of Hon. L. D. Campbell, late Minister to Mexico: It appears that Mr. Campbell had peremptory orders from Mr. Seward to remain in New Orleans, and no orders to go to Mexico in search of President Juarez were received by him until the first of the present month. The instructions then given him were to proceed to Mexico, and take his station near President Juarez, but no method of conveyance was indicated by which he could get there. Mr. Campbell, it seems, was ill with an attack of fever when these instructions reached him. He at once set about procuring a vessel for the journey, but was unable to obtain any. Finding that there was no means of transportation, he telegraphed to the Department to have a vessel assigned for his use, which request was refused. As his orders were emphatic to join the Mexican President, and he found it impossible to do so except by journeying overland with blanket and haversack, he telegraphed to Mr. Seward, tendering his resignation, which was accepted and another Minister appointed.

The Old Story.

The Coroner's investigation into the burning of the American theater, in Philadelphia, where some dozen or more citizens lost their lives, has developed the fact that whisky had much to do with it. The Bulletin says: "There was, as usual, a bar in the front part of the building, and firemen and citizens rushed in to help themselves. Several of the witnesses before the Coroner testified that there was a barrel of whisky near the front door, and Assistant Engineer McCusker had hard work to keep the men from it. Finally, according to his testimony, he knocked in the head of the barrel. It is probable that if, as soon as the fire began, the police had taken possession of the bar and destroyed all the liquor, there would not have been such foolish and furious recklessness as was shown by the crowd at the front of the theater."

CURIOUSLY enough while the feastings in honor of the crowned heads of Europe were going on in Paris, and every protestation possible of good fellowship were being made over the social glass, the law for the reorganization of the army was suffered to pass; and by this law every Frenchman is subject to military servitude for a period of nine years, during only four of which he may be entitled to marry, to work at his trade, and contribute to the sustenance of a family. The permission of maintaining an army of 800,000 men does not look much like peace, whatever may have been the toasts drunk and the sentiments uttered over the champagne absorbed in such amazing quantities during the royal and imperial visits. The promise of disarmament is flatly contradicted by the mobilization of the National Guard—a measure which no other sovereign has ever dared to propose.

VALUE OF OLD ROPE.—Among the numerous worn-out and often considered worthless materials which the ingenuity of man has discovered means of remanufacturing, and rendering of equal value with the original substance, are old tarred ropes, which have long been in use at the coal-pits. Our readers will be surprised when we inform them that out of this dirty and apparently unbleachable substance is produced a tissue paper of the most beautiful fabric, even of surface and delicacy of color, a ream of which, with wrappers and strings, weighs two and a half pounds. It is used principally in the potteries for transferring the various patterns to the earthern ware, and is found superior to any substance yet known for that purpose. It is so tenacious that a sheet of it twisted by the hand in the form of rope will support upwards of one hundred weight. Truly we live in an age of invention.—Liverpool Standard.

THE McPherson monument to be erected at Clyde, Ohio, is to be forty feet in height, and of the finest marble. The body, which is square, is divided in the center by a band, and is to contain eight panelled faces; one of these will bear the inscription of the monument, a second the names of those who subscribed for the erection, and the others alto-relievo pictures, representing important scenes in the hero's life, among them the battles of Shiloh, Vicksburg, Resaca, and the fatal shot on the memorable July 22d, before the fortress of Atlanta. Above this massive base rises a single plain shaft surmounted by an eagle, and bearing on its three dividing bands the battle record of General McPherson.

THE San Francisco Flag predicts that Archbishop Alemany will come back from Rome with a red hat. It bases this opinion upon the importance of the Pacific coast and the metropolitan position of San Francisco, and, still more, upon the personal kindness of the Pope towards Dr. Alemany. They are fellow Dominicans, and Dr. Alemany's previous appointments as Bishop of Monterey and Archbishop of San Francisco were given without any solicitation or previous notice.

A CURIOUS case is reported from Missouri. A man in that State ten years ago bequeathed $500 each to ten of his slaves, on condition that they should emigrate to Liberia or some country set apart for free persons. The slaves remained in Missouri, and the St. Louis County Court, in that State, has decided that it is "a place set apart for free persons of color," and the executor has been ordered to pay over the money.

COE'S DYSPEPSIA CURE

Is prepared by the originator of the justly celebrated Coe's Cough Balsam. Mr. Coe has never yet prepared a medicinal article for public and general use but what has stood the strongest tests, and has always borne the palm of victory over every disease it has been certified to cure. Will you who are suffering from dyspepsia, indigestion, nausea, sick headache, cholera morbus, dysentary and general debility of the whole system, try but a single bottle? We will never urge you again if we fail in this case. Our own knowledge of its merits, the united testimony of all who have ever tried it, the encomiums of hundreds of our own neighbors, your duty to yourself, and the beneficial results, as certain as sunshine, all urgently, persistently urge you to try just one bottle. If what we say is not correct—if our statements concerning its wonderful virtues are not found to be true—if you do not say that the operation of the medicine is instantaneous and perfectly wonderful—we will renounce our profession as caterers to the public health, and retire from the field, admitting that we are incompetent to compound a medicinal preparation which would be entitled to your confidence.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS,
Having thirty years to run, and bearing annual interest, payable on the first day of January and July, in the city of New York, at the rate of
SIX PER CENT. IN GOLD,
AT
Ninety Cents on the Dollar.

This road was completed from Omaha 305 miles, west on the 1st of January, 1867, and is fully equipped, and trains are regularly running over it. The Company has now on hand sufficient Iron, Ties, etc., to finish the remaining portion to the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains, 212 miles, which is under contract to be done September 1st of this year, and it is expected that the entire road will be in running order from Omaha to its western connection with the Central Pacific, now being rapidly built eastward from Sacramento, Cal., during 1870.

Means of the Company.

Estimating the distance to be built by the Union Pacific to be 1,565 miles, the United States Government issues its Six per cent. Thirty-year Bonds to the Company as the road is finished at the average rate of about $28,250 per mile, amounting to $44,208,000.

The Company is also permitted to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds to an equal amount, and at the same time, which by special Act of Congress are made a First Mortgage on the entire line, the bonds of the United States, being subordinate to them.

The Government makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, amounting to 20,032,000 estimated to be worth $30,000,000, making the total resources, exclusive of the capital, $118,416,000; but the full value of the lands cannot now be realized.

The authorized Capital Stock of the Company is one hundred million dollars, of which five millions have already been paid in, and of which it is not supposed that more than twenty-five millions at most will be required.

The cost of the road is estimated by competent engineers to be about one hundred million dollars, exclusive of equipment.

Prospects for Business.

The railroad connection between Omaha and the East is now complete, and the earnings of the Union Pacific on the sections already finished for the month of May were $261,782. These sectional earnings as the road progresses will much more than pay the interest on the Company's bonds, and the through business over the only line of railroad between the Atlantic and Pacific must be immense.

Value and Security of the Bonds.

The Company respectfully submit, that the above statement of facts fully demonstrates the security of their Bonds, and as additional proof they would suggest that the Bonds now offered are less than ten million dollars on 517 miles of road, on which over twenty million dollars have already been expended; —on 330 miles of this road the cars are now running, and the remaining 187 miles are nearly completed.

At the present rate of premium on gold these Bonds pay an annual interest on the present cost of

and it is believed that on the completion of the road, like the Government Bonds, they will go above par. The Company intend to sell but a limited amount at the present low rate and retain the right to advance the price at their option.

MESSRS. FAHNESTOCK & HOLTON—GENTLEMEN: I have been suffering with Chronic Dyspepsia for about twelve years, in its worst form, which I think one of the most disagreeable, unpleasant and painful diseases of them all. I have tried one remedy after another, without any but temporary relief. After using different medicines recommended for its cure, I would sometimes feel relieved, but would soon fall back, in fact, more than ever. I have been using MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS
Regularly, for about six weeks. I feel satisfied that they have cured me entirely, as my general health is very good. I can eat whatever my appetite craves without any unpleasant feelings afterwards, which was a great trouble before, often having to throw up my meals. After using the Bitters a short time, I eat Soup, something I have not been able to do for years satisfactorily. I really think I am a changed man entirely, owing to the efficacy of MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS. Those suffering with the same disease, Dyspepsia, are at liberty to call on me at any time at my place of business, Slack & Sholes' Planing Mill, Marbury street, Pittsburgh.

IMPROVEMENT OF THE
Minnesota, Mississippi and Wisconsin Rivers.

UNITED STATES ENGINEER'S OFFICE, ST. PAUL, MINN., June 22, 1867.
Sealed Proposals in duplicate will be received at this office, addressed to the undersigned, until 12 M., THURSDAY, July 25th, as follows:

FIRST.
Proposals for Removing Snags and Boulders from the Channel of the Minnesota River.

This work is in two sections, the Upper Section being from the junction of the Yellow Medicine River to Mankato, 133 miles, has reefs of small and large boulders, and snags singly or in groups. The width is about 200 feet; the low water channel way 20 to 40 feet wide, with depth from 10 to 24 inches, and current half to 2½ miles per hour. The Lower Section being from Mankato to the Little Rapids, 61 miles, is mainly obstructed by snags. The width is about 250 to 300 feet; the low water channel way 40 to 80 feet wide, with depth from 15 to 20 inches, and current one to two miles per hour. The Little Rapids at low water can only be passed by light vessels of one foot draft. With a rise of four feet, these rapids are no obstruction.
The banks throughout the river are generally alluvial from 10 to 20 feet above low water. The floods reach 25 feet above low water. By the term "snag" is meant sunken logs and stumps, and trees with roots imbedded in the bottom of the stream. They vary in diameter from one-half to 3½ feet. The boulders will not require stronger lifting machinery than the snags will, and may be deposited in deep holes, but snags must be destroyed or placed where they cannot again wash into the channel way. The work will be let entire or in such parts as the engineer may determine. $37,000 is appropriated for this work.
Contractors will state the price of removal per snag of the following diameters above the root: First, between 6 inches and 20 inches. Second, between 20 inches and 30 inches. Third, between 30 inches and 36 inches. Fourth, between 36 inches and 42 inches. The price of removing boulders will be stated by the ton or cubic yard.
Contractors will be required to furnish their own boats, machinery, &c., as well as labor, to interfere as little as practicable with navigation, and to show that they possess the necessary skill and experience, and that the means to be used are adapted to the river, and suitable in construction and mechanical power. They will be required to commence work at two points at least by the first of September next, the stage of water permitting.
These proposals must be indorsed on the envelope "Proposals for removing snags and boulders from the Minnesota river."

SECOND.
Proposals to Sell to the United States Two (2) Substantial Light Draught Steamers of the Following General Dimensions, viz:

No. 1.—Hull, 120 feet long, 25 feet wide, exclusive of guards, with 3½ or 4 feet depth of hold, to draw 18 inches light. Boilers, two (2) 22 feet long, 33 inches diameter, 4 flues. Engines double, cylinders 6 feet stroke, 18 inches diameter, poppet valves.
No. 2.—Hull 150 long, 32 feet wide, exclusive of guards, with 4 to 5 feet depth of hold; to draw 20 inches light. Boilers, three (3) 24 feet long by 38 inches diameter, 4 flues. Engines double, cylinders 84 inches by 22 inches, poppet valves.
The bids may be for either side wheel or stern wheel boats. The wheel or wheels to be of suitable diameter, and length of bucket to correspond with dimensions of boilers and engines given above.
Boilers to be of best ¼ inches charcoal iron, capable of sustaining a working pressure of 150 pounds to the square inch, with improved guages for testing pressure of steam and height of water.
Engines to be of most approved pattern now in use on Western waters, with "doctor" for supplying boilers, and "nigger," or capstan, and hoisting engines.
Boat not be over two (2) years old, in good repair, sound condition, substantially built of best material, and fully equipped with spars, derricks, capstan, bells, steam whistle, tools, tackle and all needful outfit for immediate service.
It is essential that the boats offered for sale as above specified have a bluff, or well rounded bow, in order to insure a great amount of bearing capacity forward.
The cabin required will be of moderate dimensions, such as usually furnished to freight or tow boats.
The proposals must describe minutely the construction and dimensions of every part of hull and upper works, machinery and outfit, and place where built, and must be endorsed on the envelope "Proposals to sell Steamboats."
Fifteen days after signing contracts will be allowed for delivery of boats.

THIRD.
Proposals to wreck steamer "Northern Light."

The Northern Light lies in the channel in the lower end of Coon Slough, where she sunk in April, 1866, and since abandoned by her owners. The Government reserves no right to possess anything removed from her—the wreckers to enjoy all the rights pertaining to such enterprises.
Contractors will state the charge for removing every part of this vessel and machinery down as low five feet below extreme low water during the present season, and no bid will be considered unless the party offering it shall give satisfactory evidence that he is reliable and possessed of the ability to perform the work.
Proposals to be endorsed on the envelope "Proposals to wreck steamer Northern Light."

A printed copy of this advertisement must be attached to each proposal herein solicited. Each bid must contain a written guarantee, signed by two responsible persons. Blanks for proposals will be furnished to this office on application.
The Government reserves the right to reject any and all bids.
Parties desiring further information can obtain the same by calling at this office, where maps of the rivers and drawings of vessels for removing snags and boulders will be shown to all who desire to make proposals.

The Daily Commercial

"GOING ALONE."

With curls in the sunny air tossing,
With light in the merry blue eyes,
With laughter so clearly outringing,
A laugh of delight and surprise;
All friendly assistance disdaining,
And trusting no strength but its own,
The past tears and trials forgotten,
The baby is "going alone!"

What woful mishaps have preceded
This day of rejoicing and pride!
How often the help that he needed
Has carelessly gone from his side!
He has fallen while reaching for sunbeams,
Which just as he grasped them have flown,
And the tears of vexation have followed,
But now he is "going alone."

And all through his life he will study
This lesson again and again;
He will carelessly lean upon shadows,
He will fall and weep over the pain.
The hand whose fond clasp was the surest,
Will coldly withdraw from his own,
The sunniest eyes will be clouded,
And he will be walking alone!

He will learn what a stern world we live in,
And he may grow cold like the rest;
And just keep a warm, sunny welcome,
For those who seem truest and best;
Yet chastened and taught by past sorrow,
And stronger and manlier grown,
Not trusting his all in their keeping,
He learns to walk bravely alone.

And yet not alone, for our Father
The faltering footsteps will guide,
Through all the dark mazes of earth-life,
And "over the river's" deep tide.
Oh! here is a Helper unfailing,
A strength we can perfectly trust,
When, all human aid unavailing
"The dust shall return unto dust."

THE FREEDMEN.

Report of Freedmen's Aid Commission of West Pennsylvania---Distribution of Funds Sent to the Destitute---Schools at Nashville, Stevenson and Huntsville---Florence Expenditures---Rapid Improvement.

To the Editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial:

Our schools having closed for the present season, a report was presented to the Directors on the 27th inst., showing, in detail, our operations for this year, also, in part, from our commencement. At the request of the Board I send you some portions of the report:

Dr. C. G. Hussey, President, Hon. T. M. Howe, W. Thaw, Esq., F. R. Bruno, Esq., Vice-Presidents, and Board of Directors:

Two and a half years ago when we started, an allusion, by a speaker from Philadelphia, to the possibility of negro suffrage seemed to do us serious harm. Now the negroes are voting in the South, and their votes are eagerly sought by both parties. Instead of the extermination our teachers and schools as we had reason to fear, we now look with confidence to the early establishment of State public schools in all the Southern States, free to all.

Such a state of things is at once the greatest reward to those who amid obloquy, misrepresentation and scorn, have manfully stood up for the oppressed and the greatest encouragement to complete the good work. Two hundred thousand, it is said, have learned to read in the freedmen's schools. The effects on the whites must be very great. Soon the poor of both races will universally demand public schools. Then will our work be done. Their public schools will be of the best, too. Who then will not be proud to have been a helper in this good cause?

PHYSICAL WANTS.

With people really dying, from hunger and cold, after Hood's raid to Nashville, and Sherman's grand march through Georgia, our first work was to supply these wants. As stated in our last report some $4,500 in money and some $2,000 in clothing was distributed. Since then, as well as we can estimate, about $14,500 worth of clothing has been sent. A large part of this has come from the excellent and efficient association called the Women's branch of our commission in Pittsburgh and Allegheny. Much of it has been new, all useful and valuable. Most of this has gone to Tennessee and Alabama.

SPECIAL RELIEF FOR THE DESTITUTE.

Though not directly connected with our work, or coming into our accounts, it may be proper to state that within the last few months the sum of nearly $2,000 ($1,951 96) has been contributed and sent through your general agent for the "relief of the destitute in the South, without regard to race or color." This money was contributed mainly by the Harmony Society at Economy, and by individuals and churches, a large part of it through the Young Men's Christian Association. It was nearly all sent, at the direction of the donors, to W. F. Mitchell, our superintendent; the remainder to Oscar M. Waring, at Florence, Alabama. Mr. Mitchell's statements of the expenditure of the fund have been received with full vouchers and statements in detail. Hundreds were relieved. These were found, after diligent inquiry for the most needy, in various parts of Tennessee, Georgia and Alabama. Our own teachers, teachers of other associations, clergymen, officers and agents of the Bureau, were the parties through whom the distribution was effected. In one place thirty-seven families were supplied, in another fourteen, under the personal supervision of Mr. Mitchell. In Macon, Georgia, forty to seventy persons were supplied, daily, for nearly two weeks, under the direction of Major General Lewis, of the Bureau. Mr. Waring reports a number of cases of widows and orphans of rebel soldiers, and sick, superannuated and cast off colored people. On the whole, we do not believe that any considerable portion of the large sums contributed by the North this winter and spring for the destitute has been more wisely distributed among the real sufferers.

SCHOOLS.

These have been at Nashville, Tenn., and at Stevenson, Huntsville and Florence, Ala., under the care of Wm. F. Mitchell.

NASHVILLE.

The orphanage, the colony, the hospital, the destitute poor, as well as the schools, all had Mr. Mitchell's faithful and constant attention. The orphanage, providing for the food, clothing and lodging of from 40 to 60 or 70 children at a time, for many months, has been a large item of expense, and the source of great care, labor and anxiety. Our Association contributed $1,500 to it, beside much bedding and clothing, much of the latter furnished by the Ladies' Association. We are well satisfied it was the means of saving many lives and relieving untold misery and suffering.

Besides this, there are here three schools containing from 230 to 250 pupils. The improvement in these schools has been very marked. Recently they had an examination and exhibition with a regular printed programme of exercises, with declamations, dialogues, gymnastic exercises, interspersed with music. Generally the pupils are said to have done admirably. How great the change. Belonging to the very poorest class, notwithstanding the obstacles in their way, many of them not half clothed or fed, here they are, in a little more than two years, enjoying many of the highest advantages of our Northern public schools. The assistant teachers in these schools have been colored persons, and we have reason to believe they have done very well. The experiment has proved a success and ought to be encouraged.

STEVENSON.

At this point we have had two schools and a normal class, numbering in all about 150 pupils. There has been one white teacher with two colored assistants. The history of one of the latter illustrates the effects of these schools. A very few years ago an ignorant slave—then one of our pupils—then an assistant teacher at $35 a month—then a member of the registration board at $5 a day, with the approbation and respect of the entire community. He was put on this board with two of the most respectable white citizens on account of his excellent character and qualifications shown as a teacher. The normal class here numbers about twenty, and many of them will become teachers of plantation and neighborhood schools.

Here a nice new school house just erected by us was fired by an incendiary, the very day it was to be occupied by the schools. We have been disappointed in getting another built, but still hope to accomplish it. Through the kind help of the executors of Mr. Avery, twenty acres of land, including the school site, have been bought and paid for, and laid out in village lots. The village is called "Avery." Some of these lots have been rented or sold at a moderate price to the freed people.

HUNTSVILLE.

Here, a normal class, numbering about 26, and a model school of from 100 to 125 has been in operation, both under the care of Miss M. Hindman, from our own neighborhood. In the model school she has been aided by the pupils of the normal class. Both have been very efficiently and successfully managed. Many of the normal class have done remarkably well. Several of them will teach this summer if they can find school rooms. An examination and exhibition came off at the close with great credit, attended largely by whites and blacks.

FLORENCE.

Perhaps, all things considered, the most interesting and satisfactory portion of our work has been at Florence, Ala. Last November Mr. O. M. Waring, a young colored man, a native of Beaver county, Pa., and a graduate at Oberlin, went to Florence, making his own arrangements, securing a school house and commenced with some 40 pupils. This increased to 80 or 90 without assistants. They learned remarkably well. He organized a normal class. He selected two of the best as assistant teachers. These have done finely. So successful was Mr. Waring that a number came from neighboring places to board in Florence and to go to school. The number has steadily increased. At last report there were 204. From the testimony of a number of the most prominent white citizens, including Gov. Patton, the local press, and our Superintendent, this has been one of the most successful Freedmen's school in the Southwest. For attention, neatness, excellent order, punctuality and rapid progress in reading, writing, arithmetic, geography and other studies, as well as in manners and general information, we doubt whether it has had many superiors. Mr. Waring seems to be a person of unusual ability, energy, perseverance and tact, and well qualified to exert an influence for good among his race in the South. Ought not such a man to be continued in the work there? If the means can be obtained, we wish to establish other schools in the neighborhood under his care. We know of none more needy or more likely soon to become self-supporting.

SABBATH SCHOOLS.

In all places where our schools have been established, Sabbath schools have been regularly kept up and well attended, and we hope with much profit.

EXPENDITURES.

The actual expenditures, since the last annual report have been as follows:

From Nov. 29, 1865, to Nov. 29, 1866	$9,564 19
" to June 29, 1867	6,952 56
	$16,516 75
Since the commencement, there has been received into the treasury	$25,826 39
And there has been expended	25,494 49
Cash balance (also one $500 7-30 bond)	$331 90

[illegible] clothing, as before stated, about $21,000. We had in all nine schools and three normal classes; twenty-three teachers and assistant teachers, and have probably reached some 1,500 to 1,700 different pupils.

CONCLUSION.

So much for the past. What of the future? Shall we stop or shall we go on? We can go on at less expense than ever before for things are better systematized. To go on even for another year is important. With a good crop this year they can perhaps do something for themselves next year.

Never were the motives to help them stronger than they are now. Ignorant and down trodden as they have been, and as they are, they are by far the most promising people in the South. Through their example, if we only give them schools and teaches, the "poor whites" will be led to see the value of education and strive to obtain it, and thus the whole mass be lifted up or they must perish. Without industry and without education they cannot maintain their position by the side of these blacks. Industry, thrift and education must win the race. The history of the world shows no such progress, in an utterly ignorant people, in so short a time, as they have already made. But with the added stimulus of the ballot in their hands, carrying with it, as it must necessarily, the possibility of obtaining office, who can limit the progress—or even foresee it—if such a race of laborers, so impulsive, so vigorous, so full of imagination, energy and industry, and yet so willing to study and to learn. Strange as it seems to us, the history of this work among the freedmen shows that, instead of slavery crushing them to death with its infernal cruelty and malice, they have actually been kept, in spite of it, young, fresh and vigorous—ready to enter on a most glorious career.

Who can contemplate the possibilities bound up in the destinies of this black race, and not long to have a hand in shaping their future? Let us not fail them in this their hour of trial and sore need.

JOS. S. TRAVELLI,
Gen. Agent Freedmen's Aid Commission of Western Pennsylvania, &c.

NEW DRY GOODS.—Messrs. Gardner & Stewart, No. 69 Market street, corner of Fourth, publish elsewhere in these columns their bulletin of prices for new goods, to which the attention of lady readers is invited.

QUOIT MATCH.—The final arrangements were effected yesterday for a match at quoits, to take place on Wednesday morning next, in a lot off Hancock street, between Michael Gormley and Wm. Johnson, for a purse of one hundred dollars.

MANCHESTER WATER EXTENSION.—The work of extending the water main in the Fifth and Sixth wards, Allegheny (Manchester) has been commenced. Yesterday the northern side of Ohio Avenue, its entire length, was torn up and the pipes are now being laid.

INQUEST POSTPONED.—The Coroner's inquest on the body of T. J. Beckert, the fireman on the Steubenville Railroad, who was killed on Saturday afternoon, in the Ninth ward, has, owing to the absence of witnesses, been postponed until Friday evening.

ODD FELLOWS CELEBRATION.—The Rimersburg Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows will celebrate the Fourth of July at Rimersburg, Clarion county, by a public demonstration. Colonel Samuel Young, editor of the Clarion Banner, and a former Pittsburgher, will deliver the oration.

HELD FOR TRIAL.—Jeremiah Coffee, who was arrested at Laughlin's Furnace, on Sunday night, on a charge of malicious mischief and surety of the peace, had a hearing before the Mayor yesterday, when he was held to bail for trial. John Baker charged with interfering with the officers while making the arrest, was committed to jail, in default of bail, to answer at Court.

EARLY CLOSING.—Mr. Wm. Semple, dry goods merchant, Nos. 180 and 182 Federal street, Allegheny, notifies his customers that after Friday next, the 5th inst., and until the first of September, his store will be open from seven o'clock A. M., until five P. M., excepting on Saturdays, when it will close at nine P. M. Thursday next, the Fourth of July, being our National holiday, the store will not be open. Customers will please bear this in mind.

THE WEST PITTSBURGH SHOOTING AFFRAY.—Michael Leonard, who was arrested and committed to jail some days since on a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill, in the shooting and dangerous wounding of Patrick Graham, in West Pittsburgh, on Wednesday night last, had a final hearing yesterday before Burgess Barker, of South Pittsburgh, which resulted in his being recommitted to jail for trial at the next term of Court. Mr. Graham, who has been lying dangerously ill in bed since receiving the wound, is now recovering quite rapidly, and is able to sit erect.

A CONFIDENCE MAN.—About a month since, an individual who gave his name as H. L. Van Cleve, who said he came from Pittsburgh, made his appearance in Wheeling, and represented himself to have been a Colonel in the Confederate army, but at present a professor of "lightning calculation." He being a man of pleasing address and a specious talker, soon succeeded in forming a class of forty or fifty scholars, but after giving two lessons, disappeared suddenly, leaving a number of unpaid bills behind him. His creditors are of opinion that his method of "lightning calculation" is immensely successful.

COUP DE SOLEIL.—A young unmarried woman, named Margaret Hough, died suddenly last evening, at the residence of her mother in a court in the Ninth Ward. She was engaged during the morning in washing clothes, and at noon eat a hearty dinner. About three o'clock, while going up stairs, she became suddenly sick, when she laid down in bed and a physician was summoned. Various remedies were applied, but death ensued about six o'clock. Coroner Clawson held an inquest on the body, and the physician testifying that death had resulted from sunstroke, the jury rendered a verdict accordingly. The deceased was twenty-four years of age, and arrived in this city from Ireland about three weeks since.

FIRES DURING LAST MONTH.—Samuel T. Paisley, Esq., Superintendent of the Fire Alarm Telegraph, makes the following report of fires and business done at the Central office during the month of June, ending Sunday night: The number of alarms struck was nine. One hundred and seventy-eight blows were struck on the great bell in sounding alarms, and two hundred and forty blows in striking the hours. The time, as is known, is regulated by Mr. James R. Reed's observations. Total amount of loss, $60,315. Total amount of insurance, $8,275. The largest fire of the month was the burning of Messrs. Gillespie & Mitchell's planing mill, in the Ninth ward, on the 8th instant.

Degrees Conferred.

At the recent commencement of the Western University of Pennsylvania, the degree of A. B. was conferred upon the following students: Wm. McGrew Blackburn, Charles C. Montooth, John C. Newmyer, Robert C. Moore, John O. Petty, Wilkins Updike, Thomas B. Kerr, Robert G. Young. The degree of B. Ph. on Howard Dunlap, E. D. Graff, Cyrus B. Hatch. The degrees of A. M., in course, on George I. Whitney, John A. Wilson, Thos. T. Marshall, John H. McCandless. The degree of LL.D was conferred on Hon. Moses Hampton, President Judge of the District Court of Allegheny county.

Escape of a Prisoner.

Yesterday morning at six o'clock Capt. Geo. W. Gillespie, Deputy United States Marshal, left this city en route for Erie, having in his charge James Cernahin, charged with passing counterfeit postal currency. Cernahin was arrested in Venango county about two months ago, since which time he has been confined in the jail in this city. His trial was to have taken place during the present term of the United States Distict Court at Erie. When the train arrived near Transfer Station, the prisoner watched an opportunity and jumped from a car while under full headway. The train was immediately stopped, and although a strict search was instituted no traces of him could be discovered. Capt. Gillespie, however, is still prosecuting the search, and may succeed in arresting the fugitive.

Linden Grove Pic-Nic and Base Ball Grounds.

By a reference to our advertising columns, it will be seen that the old and well known grove "Linden," at Oakland Station, is to be re-opened July 4th, for the accommodation of picnic parties. A new and large platform has been erected, and buildings suitable for accommodating any number of persons in the way of refreshments put up. The old camp grounds adjoining will be rented on reasonable terms to base ball clubs. The Pittsburgh, Oakland and East Liberty Railway is now in the best of order, and the Company is prepared to furnish cars, when notified, to accommodate almost any amount of passengers. The conductors and drivers on this road are obliging and attentive to passengers, and the time made is satisfactory. We can state that in passing over the road nearly every day during the past two months, between Pittsburgh and East Liberty, we have only missed one connection at the Oakland Station.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS.—Before Judge Mellon.

Maria Thompson was arraigned on four indictments for larceny. In April last, the defendant, who is a pleasant looking woman of thirty years, came to this city from Nashville on her way to New York. She engaged a room at the St. Clair Hotel, and during the day went out shopping. She called first at Richardson's jewelry store, on Market street, and requested to be shown some gold watch chains. While examining them she managed to secret three of them about her person. She afterwards visited Carnahan's shoe store, where she was observed to take a pair of gaiters. Heineman & Meyran's jewelry store, and Macrum & Carlisle's trimming store were also visited, and articles of trifling value taken. Mr. Nicholson, the Mayor's clerk, learning of her operations, followed her to the St. Clair Hotel, and from thence to the Union Depot, where he found her in a train which was about to leave for Philadelphia. She was at once arrested and committed to jail, in default of bail, for trial. Yesterday, during the progress of the case, she made an unsuccessful effort to create sympathy in her behalf, by attempting a fainting scene. She fell from her chair to the floor, but the tipstaves had not much trouble in restoring her to consciousness. The fainting had no effect with the jury, as they returned a verdict of guilty on two of the indictments. She then entered a plea of guilty as to the others. The Court sentenced her to one year's imprisonment in the Penitentiary on each of the indictments on which she had been found guilty, reserving sentence in the two charges to which she plead guilty.

Teomas Hughes was arraigned on a charge of assault and battery, preferred by John Dingledine. The alleged assault took place at Ruckeisen's saloon, on St. Clair street, in March last, since which time the defendant has been in jail, being unable to furnish the required bail. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty, when the court ordered him to pay a fine of ten dollars and costs, and enter into bonds in the sum of one thousand dollars to keep the peace for one year.

James Muldoon was placed on trial to answer to a charge of assault and battery. The prosecutor, James McGurgan, alleged that on Saturday night, the 22d ult., while visiting at a house on Overhill street, he was assailed by defendant with a knife, and stabbed severely. The case went to the jury at three o'clock, and Court adjourned until this morning.

Reduction of Wages in the Cotton Mills.

The proprietors of the cotton mills in Allegheny City have notified their employees that a reduction of twenty per cent. in the wages is necessary to enable them to continue their establishments in operation. The Eagle and Banner mills have been closed for several weeks, the Anchor closed yesterday, and the Penn will suspend during the present week, unless the employees signify their willingness to continue work at the reduction. The proprietors state that owing to the decline in prices of the quality of goods manufactured by them, they have been operating for a year past at an actual loss. They, however, continued, under the expectation that business would revive during the spring and summer. These hopes have not been realized, and they now find their warehouses filled with manufactured goods, and no prospect of disposing of them until the opening of the fall trade. Under these circumstances, it was proposed to discontinue operations during the summer months, but being fearful that the employees, who are nearly all skilled artizans, would seek for employment in other fields of labor, and could not be secured upon the resumption of business, it was decided to propose an average reduction in wages of twenty per cent. The Anchor will resume operations on Monday morning next, in case the hands are willing to accept of the rate of wages proposed. A report was in circulation yesterday that the places of the late employees in the mills would be filled by the females belonging to the families of the Prussian emigrants, who arrived in the city on the 21st ult. We made inquiry into the matter, and learned that there was no truth whatever in the report. It is meerly proposed to continue the mills in operation in order to furnish employment to the regular hands, and in case they refuse to accept the proposition, the mills will be allowed to remain idle. The question will be decided on Monday morning, at which time the operatives will have an opportunity of announcing their decision.

THE NOON-DAY PRAYER MEETING.—The noon-day prayer meeting, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, which has been held for nearly six months past in the First Methodist Church, Fifth street, was held for the last time during the summer, on Saturday. The prayer meetings will be resumed in the fall, of which due notice will be given.

POLICE INTELLIGENCE.

[Before Mayor Morrison, of Allegheny.]

WIFE BEATING.

Mrs. Mary Johnson yesterday appeared at the Allegheny Mayor's office, and made information against her husband, John Johnson, for assault and battery. The parties reside on First street, in the Third ward, Allegheny, and the husband is charged with having beaten and abused his wife. A warrant was placed in the hands of officer Hess for the arrest of the accused.

A QUARREL.

Wm. Russell instituted suit for assault and battery against James Patton. Russell is a wounded soldier and was a member of the Sixth Army Corps, while Patton, who was also a soldier, belonged to the Fifth Corps. They met in Fisher's tavern, in the First ward, Allegheny, yesterday morning, when Patton, it is alleged, indulged in severe reflections as to the military record of the Sixth Corps, using language which Russell construed into an insult to any Sixth Corps man. He remonstrated, when Patton, he alleges, attacked him and beat and abused him unmercifully. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused.

[Before Alderman Strain.]

KILLED A PIG.

James McTaggart was before this magistrate yesterday, charged, on oath of John Ryan, with malicious mischief. The parties reside near Leetsdale, in Sewickley township, and the defendant is charged with having wantonly killed a pig, belonging to the prosecutor, and valued at twenty dollars. A hearing will be had in the case next Saturday morning.

DISCHARGED.

James, Martha and Jennie Fairfax, who were charged with breach of the peace, on oath of Mrs. Catharine Moore, had a hearing yesterday, which resulted in the discharge of the accused, the defendants to pay the costs. The parties are all colored and reside in Hayti.

[Before Alderman Taylor.]

BREAKING WINDOWS.

Wm. Kinslo was charged yesterday with malicious mischief, on oath of Jeremiah Cooper. The prosecutor, who resides in the Fifth ward, alleges that his little boy was chased into the house by the defendant, on Sunday, when the latter proceeded to throw stones at the boy through the windows, thereby smashing the glass and demolishing the sashes. A warrant was issued, but the accused has not yet been arrested.

[Before Alderman McMasters.]

ALLEGED ASSAULT.

Patrick McAfee, keeper of a grocery store on Webster street, made oath charging one Patrick Leonard with assault, alleging that the latter assaulted him in his store and called him vile names. A warrant was issued.

[Before Justice Ammon, of East Birmingham.]

REFUSED TO PAY THEIR BOARD BILL.

Mr. Roth, proprietor of a tavern in Brownstown, instituted suit yesterday against the proprietors of Whitbey & Co.'s circus, to recover fifty dollars, the amount of a bill for boarding, which they refused to pay. The circus exhibited in Birmingham on Saturday, and affiant alleges that the proprietors and the circus employees obtained board from him to the amount claimed. The only reason given by the defense for refusing to pay the board bill was that the boarding was not as good as they wanted. The magistrate rendered judgment in favor of the complainant for forty dollars and costs of suit.

[Before Justice Heisel, of East Birmingham.]

ALLEGED OUTRAGEOUS ASSAULT.

Two men named David Espy and David Tarr were arrested yesterday and taken before the above Justice, charged with aggravated assault and battery, on oath of Elmira Shields. The parties, it appears, got into a dispute on the 25th ult., which ended in a quarrel, and, it is alleged, the defendants attacked the prosecutor, striking him with a "handy billy," kicking him, and otherwise outrageously beating and abusing him, injuring him quite severely. After a hearing the accused were required to enter bail for trial at court.

ASSAULTED HIS WIFE.

James L. McDonald lodged complaint Thomas Little for assault and battery, alleging that the latter attacked deponent's wife, and beat and abused her. The accused was arrested, but the case was settled by the prosecutor paying the costs. The parties all reside in East Birmingham.

TERRIBLE THREATS.

Daniel Lewis instituted legal proceedings against Alexander Park, for breach of the peace. The parties, it appears, had a suit before an Alderman, and after coming out of the magistrate's office, it is alleged, Park threatened to beat Lewis's brains out, calling him hard names and creating a breach of the public peace. A warrant was issued for the defendant's arrest.

Public Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—The Naiad Queen was presented last evening for the first time, to a large and fashionable audience, and was received with every mark of favor. The scenery is gorgeous and attractive, the costumes elegant and appropriate, and the marches, battles and ballet performances all remarkably well executed. For a first performance, the play was really interesting throughout, Annie Waite as "Lurline," and Mrs. Annie Sefton as "Prince Rupurt," being specially noticeable for their excellent impersonations. The play will be repeated this evening.

PERSONAL.—C. Amory Brace, the indefatigable advance agent, is at present in the city making arrangements for the advent of the famous Imperial Japanese Troupe, whose wonderful performances have electrified overflowing audiences in every city in which they have yet appeared. The troupe will appear at the Opera House July 13th, for a few nights only.

The Mercantile Agency.

The Montreal Gazette says: The lawsuit between the rival Mercantile Agencies (Dun, Wiman & Co. and J. M. Bradstreet & Co.) appears to have excited a good deal of attention, not only here, but throughout the United States. That it should do so need not create surprise, for these Agencies have obtained an influence which, at their start, no one could have anticipated. The great body of wholesale merchants are more or less influenced in their credit operations by whatever reports may be contained in the Agency books, and if these institutions are conducted honestly and efficiently they are commendable enterprises. If, however, they are either inefficient or dishonest, they should be promptly discouraged. In relation to this matter a correspondence between the New York houses of the above firms has recently been published, from which it seems pretty evident that the Messrs. Bradstreet are not only guilty of the charge which Messrs. Dun, Wiman & Co. made against them, of having pirated their Canada book, but that they have all along been guilty of equally improper practices with regard to the United States. If the Messrs. Bradstreet hope to gain the confidence of the community here, they must show a cleaner record than shown in the correspondence to which we have referred.

Phlebotomy.

When Dr. Sangrado found his patients weak he gave them water gruel. When they got weaker he bled them and dosed them with calomel and jalap. Gil Blas tells us they almost invariably died. A good many people are killed that way yet. The world in general, however, has found out that, in cases of debility and premature decay, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the true life-sustaining cordial. This tonic is a powerful and perfectly harmless restorative. But it does more than invigorate. It regulates and purifies. While it builds up the strength and infuses vitality into the blood, it brings all the secretions into harmony with the laws of health. The feebler sex find it invaluable in the various physical difficulties to which their organization renders them subject. In all hysterical and hypochondrical cases its effect is magical. The infirmities of age are alleviated by its use; and where the circulation is torpid, and there is a tendency to paralysis, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are recommended as a means of re-invigorating the system and prolonging life.

At this season of the year, particularly, when mid-summer's scorching heat does so much towards reducing the vital energies of the body, this inestimable tonic and stomachic produces a wonderful effect. By it the strength is increased, the appetite preserved, and firmness and elasticity given to the system.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

MONDAY EVENING, July 1, 1867.

Many of our local stock companies pay dividends in this month. Those that paid dividends last January and which pay semi-annually, are the following: Allegheny National, Allegheny Savings, Allegheny Trust, Farmers' Deposit National, First National, Pittsburgh, First National, Allegheny, First National, Birmingham, Mechanics' National, Merchants' and Manufacturers' National, National Trust Company, Second National, Allegheny, Tradesmen's National and the Union National, Pittsburgh, Allegheny (St. Clair street) Bridge, Birmingham and Pittsburgh Bridge and the Hand Street Bridge; Allegheny City 4 per cent. bonds, payable this month in New York; Allegheny 6's and Allegheny 7's; the Wharf Improvement bonds, Cleveland and Pittsburgh fourth mortgage bonds, Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad 6's, Lawrence county 6's, Monongahela Navigation Company, Pittsburgh 4's, compromise bonds, and also the 5's; Pittsburgh Gas Company, People's, Pennsylvania and German Fire Insurance Companies, Citizens' Passenger Railway, and National Refining and Storing Companies. A few of the above companies may have to skip their July dividend. It is very improbable that any of the insurance companies will be able to divide any profits. Their losses have absorbed the earnings, although the business to the various local companies had been very large.

—The quotations of Governments in the New York market to-day, as reported to Messrs. Ira B. McVay & Co., bankers, show the value of many of them without the coupons. The 81 6's on Saturday were 115—to-day, 108½. The 5-20's, new issue, on Saturday were 110¾,—to-day, divested of the coupons, they are quoted at 106½. So also is the new 5-20's that have just been issued, dated July 1st, 1867. They start at the same price of the new issue without the coupons—a clear premium of 6½ per cent.

—The Railway market is still excited, and another advance is noted in the quotations. The Herald says: There is no perceptible influx of outside orders to buy, however, and the speculative spirit in the street seems for the time being sufficient to carry everything before it. The unexpected monetary ease at a time when a certain degree of stringency was looked forward to as the result of the preparations of the national banks for their quarterly returns has exerted a powerful influence in favor of the bulls, and at the same time it goes to show that the banks of the country generally are in a stronger position in point of reserves than they were previously supposed to be, and that they stood in little need upon this occasion of making special efforts to fortify their position. Although two or three of the leading stocks, including Erie, are more active and mercurial than the rest, there is a well distributed business throughout the list, and every stock responds to the common impulse of the street. Of the New York Central Company it is said that they have capitalized their lease upon the Athens extension from Schenectady to Athens, on the Hudson river, the lease having been on a cost of two millions of dollars, in place of which twenty thousand shares of the stock of the company are directed to be issued to those who built the extension and placed it under the general management of the company.

—The daily Bulletin of New York, says: Gold moves sluggishly, operators complain that "there is no snap to the market." It takes a great amount of labor and ingenuity to bring about a rise of more than an ⅛ or ¼ per cent. in the price, while it seems perfectly feasible to depress it a point, if the more daring speculators were free to work with the current influences tending towards a reduction of the premium. The most of these operators are too heavily laden with higher priced treasure to feel any decided inclination to "bear" the market just at present. Their aim is to keep it as nearly steady as practicable while they are realizing on their investments.

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, MONDAY EVENING, July 1, 1867.

The only trade doing to-day, of any consequence, was in Flour, Groceries and Bacon. Flour continues active and unchanged in price, since our last. There is very little doing in grain.

We quote as follows, which are the wholesale store prices unless otherwise noted:

APPLES—Sales of new Eastern apples were made at $7 00 ℔ barrel.

BEANS—The market is bare of choice articles of small white beans, and they would readily command $3 25@3 50 ℔ bushel.

BUTTER—Choice roll in good order is quoted at 15@16c ℔ lb.

BACON, ETC—Trade fair. We quote packers' prices as follows: Sugar cured hams 17c; sugar cured shoulders 12½c; dried beef 24@25c, and plain shoulders at 9½c ℔ lb.

CHEESE—We note sales of 500 lbs Sweitzer cheese at 17c; 22 boxes Hamburg at 13@14c; Western Reserve at 12@13c and Goshen at 17@18c ℔ lb. The market is well supplied.

DRIED PEACHES—Market dull at 9@12c ℔ lb.

DRIED APPLES—A large stock on the market; sales are difficult to make at over 6@8c ℔ lb.

EGGS—Prices have not undergone any change since our last, and we continue to quote at 18c ℔ doz.

FLOUR—Market active and without change. We quote the following brands: Jenkins's Eclipse, white winter, $13 50; Jenkins's Eureka, $13 00; Jenkins's Lily Mills, $12 75; Sear's best, and Fasina, $12 00; Red River and Crosset's, $11 75@12 00; Trade Wind and Old Dominion, $11 75; Crescent City, $11 00; Tipton and Liscomb, $10 00. One house quotes best spring at $11 75@12 25, and Winter at $12 50@13 50 ℔ bbl.

RYE FLOUR—We quote at $8 00 ℔ bbl.

CORN MEAL—The general quotation is 90c@$1 00 ℔ bushel.

WHEAT—Nothing doing, and we omit quotations.

CORN—There is not much doing. Buyers are offering 85@90c, but holders are asking 90@92c ℔ bush for prime shelled.

OATS—We note sales of 200 bush oats, from depot, at 66c, and several hundred bush, lots from store, at 70c ℔ bush.

RYE—Very little doing, and prices are nominal as we have reported. Sales of small lots at from $1 15@1 25 ℔ bush.

POTATOES—Old Potatoes are coming in yet quite freely, and selling from the depot at $1 10@1 20 ℔ bushel. From store we quote P. B. at $1 20@1 25 ℔ bushel. New potatoes sold at $6 00 ℔ barrel.

SALT—Market rather dull. We quote at $2 55@2 60 ℔ barrel.

HAY—Sales from country wagons were made at $17 00@20 00 ℔ ton.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, TUESDAY, July 2, 1867.

Business since our last was very dull; we have seldom witnessed less disposition to operate; dealers generally were engaged in settling up the business of the past six months, besides the stock of crude on hand is not large. The amount in tank being held out of market, refiners are purchasing very sparingly, having a good supply on hand. The principal sales for some time to come will necessarily be for first rise delivery, for which holders were asking 7½c. for bulk on the conditions we have named; no receipts have been received for some days. A sale of 1,000 bbls. bulk was reported for first Allegheny rise, the terms withheld.

REFINED OIL—Holders appeared firm in their views. The exports for the month of June by rail were large, reaching 33,521 barrels. This oil was forwarded to meet previous contracts. A private dispatch was received, stating that oil had been received in Philadelphia in sufficient quantities to enable all parties to meet their contracts, and thus far no failures had been reported. The only sale of refined reported was 3,000 barrels bonded standard white, Philadelphia, deliverable, 500 barrels per month, beginning with July and closing with December at 26c. per gallon. In free oil we did not learn of any sales. Prices were unchanged.

NEW YORK.

Crude continues in active demand and the market, says the Commercial List of Saturday last, has been nearly cleared; the balance in the receivers' hands is for the present withheld from the market, which closes firm at 9 cents, in bulk. The sales are 2,000 bbls. low gravity, at 8¼ cents, including a small lot at 9¼c in bulk, 9¾ delivered to pkgs. and 9¼@10c pkgs returned; and for July delivery, 6,100 do low gravity, 9c, S. O., and 9@10c B. O.; and 4,000 do, 40@47 gravity, on private terms. Refined, in bond, has ruled firm—there is a moderate demand for S. W., and the market closes steady at 24@24½c, and the latter price for painted barrels. Sales 400 bbls L. S. at 23c.; 2,000 do S. W. 24c—2,000 do, 24½c, S. O., 15 days; 1,500 do, in bulk, 15c, and 1,500 do for August, September and October, 26c, B. O. Prime white has been in active demand, and sales have been made of 9,600 bbls at 25@26c; 1,000 do for July, 25c, B. O., and 10,000 gallons do, in tin, on private terms. Free continues dull, and we hear of no sales. 125 bbls. 70 gravity, Gasoline sold at 11@12c—80 gravity is very scarce, and in active request.

The receipts since January 1st were 478,669 bbls., against 462,258 same time last year. The export from New York since January 1st, 1867, amounts to 14,223,-360 gallons, against 13,672,388 gallons same time last year.

BOSTON.

The market for petroleum remains inactive, but firm at previous rates. Holders of refined oil, in view of the fact, says the Bulletin, that the longest summer days are past and the season for the stocking up home trade is near at hand, are not disposed to make any further concession. Moreover, the "hard pan" has been reached, and refiners are not willing to go on at a loss, but prefer rather to stock up on the production.

The export demand here is confined to small lots, mostly in cans, for southern latitudes; but in Philadelphia there is quite a number of ships still loading for Europe. The markets of that continent are taking large supplies; but the consumption is likely to increase at present low prices.

Crude oil is very quiet and mostly nominal in this market. The receipts are chiefly to order, and for the use of local refiners. The article is very cheap, and continues much depressed in all the Western markets, with considerable pressure to realize. We have no change to make in quotations.

We quote crude petroleum here at 12@12½c ℔ gallon in bulk, and nominally 14@16c in barrels. Refined oil is dull and selling at 25@30c ℔ gallon for bonded lots, as to brand. Free do is selling at a range of 37@48c ℔ gallon for Western and Boston, up to 50c for Downer's kerosene. Naptha is selling at a range of 15@25c, as to gravity. Residuum is dull at $4@4 25 ℔ bbl.

METAL MARKETS.

NEW YORK.

Pig Iron—American has been more freely offered, says the Iron Age, and prices are somewhat easier. But the contracts for No. 1 extra and 2 extra of the leading brands of foundry pig irons, at prices to be settled by the current market rates of the 1st and 15th of each month after the deliveries, absolutely necessitate makers to hold up prices, and indeed to cause, if possible, still further advances. Stocks, therefore, are very largely held, nevertheless some very excellent outside brands have been offered at $41 00@42 00. It is not, however, considered safe to look for lower prices. The facts alluded to above will be more strong when it is said that the makers in the Lehigh valley have sold over one-third of their season's production, leaving only one stocks of the Susquehanna, the places adjacent to the Lehigh, the Hudson and the Champlain districts unsold, and it is considered by them that prices will be well in August that prices will open at over $50 ℔ ton. But consumers complain that prices for pig iron are ruinously and unreasonably high, and always discriminate in favor of the foreign article where it is possible. To so great an extent is this being done, with a view of securing themselves against the dangerous condition of the home article, that it seriously threatens the American article, introduction for a permanent consumption by the foreign pig irons. No. 1 extra quotable at $40@41. No. 2 extra $39@40. No. 1 $38@39 and for a favorite modified iron, $40@42.

Scotch Pig Iron—Sells readily, on arrival, at $41 50 for the cheaper brands, and $43@44 for the more favorite brands. The market is considered very strong and prices are looked upon as safe for the season.

Lead—Held at 6½@7c for store lots.

Spelter—Silesian, with a moderate demand and light stocks, at 9@9½c.

Tin—The market here and in Europe indicates strength, and prices quotable at 24c, gold, for Straits and 24½c, currency.

Tea Plates—Coke, at $12 00@12 50 for invoice lots.

Scrap Iron—No. 1, wrought, dull at $40@42.

Old Rails—Fair demand at $40@41. Both these articles are likely to be in demand.

Bar Iron—Best refined, invoice lots, $90; store do, $100; common invoice lots, $85@88; store do, $90@95; market quiet.

PHILADELPHIA.

In pig metal there is very little doing, says the Iron Age, but prices are well sustained at $42 for No. 1 Anthracite sold at $41 ℔ ton. No. 2 at $40; and 1,000 tons grey forge at $38 ℔ ton. Scotch pig imported at $41 00@44 00. Manufactured iron is firmly held, but the demand is limited.

BOSTON.

The market for pig iron, according to the Bulletin, is firmer, though the demand continues moderate from actual consumers. Scotch pig is in fair supply, but more firmly held, owing to the scarcity and advance of American. The former has been selling of late at a considerable loss to importers, and in view of relatively cheap for some purposes. The domestic article is in short supply, both here and at the point of production. Pennsylvania makers are sold close up, and in some cases ahead, and the stocks of No. 1 at present available are mostly in the hands of speculators. Lots for forward delivery are now selling at higher rates, and large orders for present use are not easily filled. Manufactured iron, of all descriptions, is held firm, with quotable change, but there is not the activity expected in any branch of the metal.

Scotch pig is firmer, with sales of No. 1 in small lots from store, at $46@47 ℔ ton for Eglington and Glengarnock, $48 for Gartsherrie, and $47 for Coltness. American is also firm, with sales of small lots at $46@48 ℔ ton, for the different numbers. Refined bar is selling at $85@90 ℔ ton, as to brand. Bar iron is steady at the reduction last noted, with sales of English and American, from store, at $85@95 ℔ ton, and a shade lower, at $82 50@83 ℔ ton, gold, for English, and $82 50@85, currency, for American. Steel do are held at $120 ℔ ton, gold. Anchors are selling at 8@8½c ℔ lb; chain cables, ⅝@2 inches thick, 8½c; chains, ⅜@1⅛ inches thick, 13½@8c ℔ lb. Boiler plates are selling at 7½c for flanges, 5½c for C No. 1, and 8½c ℔ lb for common and tank. Russia sheet is firm but quiet, with sales at 12½@15c, gold, and 17@18c, currency. English and American do are selling at 6½@10c ℔ lb. Nails are selling at 6½c ℔ lb for assorted sizes. Old iron is selling at $1 50 ℔ 100 lbs for cast, and $2 12½ for scrap.

IRONTON, OHIO.

The Register of Thursday says the demand for pig metal is very quiet. The stock is slowly increasing. Prices are firm for mill at $44 00@45 00; for foundry at $47 00@49 00. Transactions during the week have been unimportant, only sales of small lots having occurred at quoted prices.

There is no improvement in the bar market. Prices remain weak at 5c. The mills are getting large and well assorted stocks on hand, so that it is quite probable that many weeks will not elapse before they will cease operations.

Nails are not very active now. Orders have been perceptibly decreasing for a month past, so that there are indications now that sufficient stock will be stored to bring about a cessation of work at the mill.

New York Sugar Market.

The business in raw on Wednesday last was very light—only 90 hhds and 700 boxes; but on Thursday and Friday last, says the Commercial List, a pretty active demand again sprang up, and the advance in Refining grades Cuba made further progress, holders still offering their stock sparingly, and the market closing strong at an improvement of one-quarter of a cent ℔ lb, bringing fair to 11⅛@11¼c, and good no to 11⅜@11½c, 4 months. Grocery styles are also held firmly and higher, but the improvement in these has not kept pace with Refining grades; we advance them about one-eighth of a cent. Refined, too, is again in better request, and prices of Yellow are a little higher; we quote other than Stuart's—Hard, 16⅛@16¼c; Soft white, 14⅞@15¼c, and Yellow 13⅞@14⅛c, cash. As these rates are now unremunerative, refiners are unwilling sellers. The sales of Raw are 3,377 hhds Cuba at 11⅛@12⅛c; 99 do and 344 bbls Clarified do 12⅛@14⅛c; 409 hhds Porto Rico 12@13⅛c; 114 Barbadoes 12⅛@12⅜c; and 1,096 bxs Havana 11⅛@12⅛c, 4 months. By auction, 100 hhds and 11 tcs Yellow Clarified Cuba, damaged, sold at 10⅛@11⅛c ℔ lb.

FREIGHTS—Moderately active, with engagements at 3½@3¾c for corn, 4c for rye, and 5c for wheat by steam, and 3c for corn by sail to Buffalo; 5½c for corn by sail to Oswego.

Cincinnati Market.

CINCINNATI, July 1.—Flour dull and prices a shade lower; family $12@12; no demand for lower grades. Wheat dull and nominal; little offering, but millers are holding back; a lot of 150 bush new red sold at $2 50; the quality is good, but the grain is soft. Corn dull and hardly enough done to quote; No. 1 sold at 74@75c. Oats 65@66c. Cotton dull at 23@23½c for middling. Whisky steady. Mess pork firm at $21@21 50, the latter the rate asked, but the demand is light, still holders are not offering their stocks at current rates. Bulk meats in demand at 8@10c, but held higher. Bacon held at 9¼, 11¼@12¼c for shoulders, sides and clear sides, and 12c for clear rib sides, but these rates being above the views of buyers, there was not much done, and the few sales made were at old rates. Hams in active demand for sugar-cured, and 14c for common. Lard dull and prices nominal. Butter dull but unchanged. Eggs 16c. Gold 137¾ buying. Exchange steady.

New York Dry Goods Market.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Dry Goods in limited demand for staple cotton goods, chiefly on orders, although on the whole, the market is quiet. We quote prints at 15@15½c. for Merrimack D; 18c. for do. W.; Garner and Cocheco, 16c.; Sprague's B, 15½c.; do. shirting, 16½c.; do. puck and purple, 16c.; Wamsutta, 11½c., and Empire State, 9c. Brown Sheetings steady, at 18c. for Atlantic and Indian head, yard wide, down to 10½c. for Keanebec. Other styles of cotton sell slowly at prices showing no particular change, and the market for woolens is still languid and depressed. Black silks are scarce and prices favor sellers.

THE RIVER AND MATTERS ALONG THE WHARF.—The weather was intensely hot. Business below the Monongahela Bridge being suspended there were no departures since the Delaware for Parkersburg. No boats will again venture below until we have more water. Above the bridge we notice a fair amount of activity. The packets of both lines arrive and depart on time. The opposition is continued as strong as ever, neither party show any disposition to give way. Lock No. 4 is not repaired. Boats exchange their trips at that point. It is expected that after the Fourth the water will be let out of that pool until the necessary repairs are made.

THE Monsoon met with an accident at Grand Ecore, and returned to New Orleans.

THE steamer Belle, Capt. Laughrey, was advertised to leave Cincinnati for this port on Saturday.

THE steamer Armadillo and barges passed Evansville on Friday en route for St. Louis, all well.

THE Belle Vernon is on her way from St. Louis to this city with a good trip. She will not be able to reach port until we have a rise.

THE Ruth, winning fame for speed in her olden days, has the machinery of the H. R. W. Hill, an old Nashville and New Orleans steamer, commanded by Captain Thomas H. Newell.

THE Hancock City is in dock at Leclaire, having been run into by the Northern Belle in a fog, and damaged about $2,000. She won't come out till after harvest home.

BY reference to our "For Sale" column the reader will find a proposition of a bar for sale on a popular boat, the owner being about engaging in another business.

THE tug Waters W. Braman was burned in Lake Erie, near Demny, in Point au Pelee passage. Crew all saved. She lies in seven fathoms of water, and is beyond recovery. There was an insurance of $10,000 on her.

BOATS CHARTERED.—Captain Sam Rodaifer has chartered Captain Granger's Osce la to run during the summer and fall on the Alabama river. The Iron City has also been chartered to navigate the same stream, under command of Captain English.

STEAMBOAT FINED AT EVANSVILLE.—The correspondent of the Commercial says: United States Marshal Spooner seized the John D. Porter to-day for violating the law regulating steamboats. She paid one hundred dollars fine and was released.

THE Richmond yesterday was in receipt of hydraulic pumps, by means of which her cylinders will have to be raised in order to fit on the new head. It is a heavy job, yet Capt. Neal expects it to be completed in ten days.

THE attention of our steamboat friends is directed to the card of Messrs. Fowler, Lee & Co., receiving and forwarding merchants, at Paducah, Ky. These gentlemen are prepared to transact all business entrusted to them, expeditiously and at reasonable charges.

WE learn from good authority that the Richmond and General Lytle are to be placed in the Memphis and New Orleans trade, connecting with the Memphis and Ohio Railroad, and making weekly trips. We also hear that the Wm. A. Arthur and Mollie Able are to be placed in the same trade.

THE steamer Kate Putnam, Capt. Lightner, passed Cairo on Friday for this city, with the following freight in boat and barges: 500 pigs of lead and 246 sacks rye for Louisville; 200 bbls flour, 40 bales rags and 88 rolls roofing for Cincinnati; 190 tons iron ore for Wheeling, and 200 tons iron ore, 75 tons metal and 118 bbls clay.

ANOTHER.—The New Orleans Crescent says:

The steamer Alexander struck a snag in Carondelet Canal, opposite the foot of First street, on Sunday morning, staving a large hole in her bow and causing her to sink almost immediately. She was loaded with shingles and pickets.

THE St. Louis Democrat says: The Northern Line Company has satisfactory advices from the fast running Sucker State, now on her way to St. Paul. She arrived at Davenport at 1:13 P. M. yesterday, being out then from this port 33 hours 19 minutes; distance, 347 miles; ahead of the Sheridan. This beats the Hawkeye's famous run of 1861 we referred to yesterday.

JEFFERSONVILLE, IND., June 28—7 P. M.—There are thirty-two inches water in the pass over the falls. The river is falling very slowly. The weather is clear, with wind from the west. The mercury ranged from eighty to eighty-four degrees all day. Business at the Jeffersonville and Louisville wharves, in the steamboat and freight line, has almost suspended entirely. All business of shippers is done in Shippingport and New Albany for the South. The steamer Havana passed down.

D. M. DRYDEN, Falls Pilot.

CAPTAIN SAM HOWE, of the steamer Gallatin, in a letter to Messrs. Leggat, Bro. & Butler, reports his arrival at Fort Benton on the 6th instant, making the run from St. Louis in forty-eight days, the quickest time yet reported. The Captain, on the 8th ultimo, run the Gallatin two miles beyond the point reached by the Peter Balen last season, and has reached the furthest point that any steamboat has ever touched at in the Missouri River. Good for the Gallatin and Captain Howe.

STEAMBOAT COLLISION.—The Cairo correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial has the following: The Tyrone reports that the Gipsy No. 2 ran into her one mile above Smithland, tearing off the Gipsy's head to the water-line and causing damage to the Tyrone. The Gipsy would have sunk, but the Tyrone ran alongside and built her a bulkhead. The pilot of the Tyrone says the Gipsy did not whistle nor stop her engine until the collision. The Tyrone blew her whistle, stopped, and backed with all her power. The Gipsy's pilot says he rang the bells to stop and back, but the engineer says he rang the gong and then the slow bell.

THE New Orleans Crescent, of Tuesday, has the following:

Sunday evening, about half-past 4 o'clock, the steamboat Doubloon, owned and commanded by Capt. W. G. Mitchell, was burned to the water's edge and sunk at the lake end of the new canal. The boat reached the lake end about half-past 3 o'clock, and was immediately made fast. Sometime afterward some men on a schooner lying about a hundred yards off gave the alarm of fire, but Capt. Mitchell, from whom we have obtained the facts we publish, thought the smoke which caused the alarm came from a tug under the stern of the boat, and paid no attention to it.

SATURDAY'S St. Louis Democrat remarks on the situation:

We have no material change to report in either the state of the weather or business matters on the wharf; the first is very pleasant and business continues dull.

The river at this point is falling, although but slowly; it is not probable that the present decline will amount to much, as the Upper Mississippi and Missouri are both rising. Fears are entertained at St. Paul of another freshet, and one that will prove more disastrous than the one of some weeks ago.

SAINT LOUIS, June 29.—Goodin, of Lexington, under date of yesterday, telegraphs as follows:

Yesterday the Yellowstone passed up at 3 P. M., the Deer Lodge at 4 P. M., and the Yorktown at 3 P. M. The W. J. Lewis passed down at noon to-day. The river has fallen three inches since yesterday, but was at a stand last evening at Omaha.

DUBUQUE, June 28.

Sucker State arrived here forty-four hours out from Saint Louis. Phil. Sheridan not in sight.

JAMES WARD.

THE Great Republic Insurance Company has been reorganized at St. Louis, under the auspices of Captain Ben. Johnson, Colonel Thomas Richeson, Samuel McCartney, Roger E. Harding, R. H. Austin, Augustus Baum, and others. The charter was granted in 1855. The stockholders are exempt from the double liability clause. The Company proposes to do a hull fire and marine insurance. The chartered capital is $500,000. Ten per cent. is the amount required on the first call. Captain Ben. Johnson, one of our successful Western steamboat owners, President of the Company, Colonel Thos. Richeson, President of the Collier White Lead and Oil Company, is Vice President, and Augustus Baum is Secretary.

SATURDAY'S Louisville Courier on the situation: The river was falling steadily yesterday, with four feet six inches water in the canal in the evening by the mark. During the previous twenty-four hours it had fallen three inches at the head of the falls, and the weather continues warm and dry, the thermometer ranging as high as 87 in the shade, with no prospects of rain. The uninterrupted dry weather all the week has caused the river to shrink into very confined limits, but it has ripened and saved the wheat, and the farmers are rejoicing at their abundant harvest, and the boatmen are grumbling of the drouth, low water, and scarcity of freight.

On the falls last evening there were only thirty inches in the pass, down the Indian chute, and falling.

THE steamer Yorktown, Capt. G. W. Ebbert, passed St. Joseph on the 26th, on her way from Fort Benton to St. Louis. "She reports the wood all gone on the upper river, and only to be obtained by cutting. The river is still rising above Buffalo, and the Indians are scarce. She reports leaving Benton on the 14th. The Ben Johnson was in port. Laid up at Harvey's Landing to wood and repair rudder; met Huntsville at 4 P. M. June 15—Met Ida Stockdale below Kipp's Rapids. Guidon below Cow Island, Octavia at Blackfoot Point. June 16—Met Benton at Milk River, Amaranth and Antelope at Harvey's Cut off, and Trover just below, and Tacony and Big Horn at Mitchel's Bend; J. A. Thompson below. June 17—Met Agnes below Buford. Little Rock at Farmer's Creek, Tom Stevens and Luella at Big Muddy. June 18—Met Viola Belle in Big Bend, Nymph below Little Missouri. Magill at old Fort George, Zephyr at St. John's wood yard. June 23 and 24—Met no boats. June 25—Met Sunset below Sioux City. The Yorktown had one Buffalo calf aboard belonging to the mate, and forty other passengers. The Stonewall, from below, and the Kate Kinney, from Omaha, are due."

RING'S VEGETABLE AMBROSIA IS THE MIRACLE OF THE AGE.

Gray headed people have their locks restored by it to the dark, lustrous, silken tresses of youth, and are happy!

Young people with light, faded or red hair, have these unfashionable colors changed to a beautiful auburn, and rejoice!

People whose heads are covered with dandruff and humors, use it, and have clean coats and clear and healthy scalps! Bald headed veterans have their remaining locks tightened, and the bare spots covered with a luxuriant growth of hair, and dance for joy! Young gentlemen use it because it is richly perfumed! Young ladies use it because it keeps their hair in place! Everybody must and will use it, because it is the cleanest and best article in the market!

For sale by Druggists generally. Price $1 00 per bottle.
